Fear Stiffer Line on Pueblo Crew

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 82 officers and men of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo began their eighth month of imprisonment in North Korea today with the Czech crisis thought to diminish any chances of an early release.

The outlook for release of the Americans already was dimmed because of hard-line demands by the North Koreans for a formal U.S. apology for the Pueblo action in allegedly infringing on their territorial waters.

Diplomats here said the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and the resultant strain on East-West relations hardly made it likely for a quick agreement on the Pueblo.

Pro-Moscow Premier Kim Il-Sung of North Korea, who praised the Soviet intervention of Czechoslovakia, has threatened repeatedly to try the Pueblo crew for spying, but he has set no date.

No blanket U.S. apology is in sight.

South Korea's ambassador to Washington, Kim Dong-Jo, predicted that the Soviet use of force to crush Czech liberalism would have the effect of stiffening Kim and his military-minded cabinet beyond their present hard line.

"As long as Kim Il-Sung is retained in power there is no hope to liberalize the North Korean regime nor gain the release of the Pueblo and its crew," Kim said in an interview.

Winthrop Brown, acting assistant secretary of state, the head of a special U.S. task force on the Pueblo at the State Department, refused to comment on U.S. efforts to obtain the help of Moscow in releasing the men but he conceded the situation is frustrating.

"We believe and hope that patient discussion and negotiation eventually will secure their release," Brown said.

As for a U.S. apology, the United States remains prepared to have the case examined by an impartial international body. When the crew is released and free to talk and if the testimony shows the Pueblo was inside North Korean territorial waters, then the United States will take appropriate action, Brown said.

For the last 45 days North Korea has either sidestepped or completely ignored U.S. requests for a 20th meeting at Panmunjom to discuss secretly the release of the men and the ship. The 19th session was held July 9. The present interval is the longest gap in negotiations since the Pueblo, loaded with highly sensitive electronic listening devices, was seized in the Sea of Japan.

Enemy Forces On the Move Near Border

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy forces lashed South Vietnam today with more than 50 rocket and mortar attacks in the same countrywide pattern that heralded last February's general offensive.

The assaults included follow-up infantry charges in a few cases and were concentrated in the northern war zone, where the last big offensive also erupted, and in the central highlands. A third of South Vietnam's 45 provincial capitals came under attack.

Heavy ground fighting continued in spots. A Special Forces camp along the Cambodian border, outnumbered by perhaps five-to-one, was holding out against an estimated 500 North Vietnamese troops surrounding it.

American Marines were heavily engaged trying to root a strong force of North Vietnamese regulars from a village two miles below Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city, and also trying to retake a compound at the Marble Mountain camp that the enemy penetrated.

The widespread attacks marked the sixth straight day of savage fighting and followed on the heels of similar assaults around Saigon, near the Cambodian border and south in the Mekong Delta. The enemy slammed hundreds of rounds of rockets and mortars into cities, towns and installations from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone.

A U.S. spokesman said the attacks exceeded those that triggered a second enemy offensive.

Ike Remains Critically Ill; Signs Stable;

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today there is "encouraging" evidence in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's status but that his overall condition "must still be considered critical and the outlook guarded."

The term "guarded" means that the doctors still consider unpredictable the matter of the general's survival from this, his 7th heart attack since 1955.

The report of the doctors of the Walter Reed Army Hospital was issued as Eisenhower was within hours of completing the first week since he was stricken with his latest attack at 1:25 p.m. EDT last Friday.

A formal medical bulletin issued shortly before 11 a.m. EDT was as follows:

"Gen. Eisenhower spent a comfortable and restful night. He has gradually shown less evidence of heart irritability—irregular and rapid beats—and while this in itself is encouraging, the general's overall conditions must still be considered critical and the outlook guarded. The general remains alert and cheerful and still shows in abundance the courage that has been his hallmark."

In connection with at least some of the heart attack which Eisenhower had suffered previous to this one, his doctors have said that the so-called "critical" period generally lasts about a week. They said that this is true for any patient suffering at least the kind of heart attack known as a "myocardial infarction" where the heart attack involves actual damage.

Whether the "critical" period would be more extensive in the type of heart attack Eisenhower presently has—known as ventricular fibrillation—could not be immediately determined.

Svoboda in Russia For Czech Talks

PRAGUE (AP) — Defiant Czechoslovakia staged a one-hour general strike today to protest the Soviet-led invasion intended to crush their nation's liberalization, and President Ludvik Svoboda went to Moscow for talks with Soviet leaders.

Prague streets were deserted as sirens and bells at noon signaled the start of the strike, called by liberal Czechoslovak Communists. Numerous arrests by occupation forces were reported, with journalists and cultural leaders the chief targets.

The clandestine free radio Prague began broadcasting license numbers and makes of cars being used by agents making the arrests, presumably the pro-Soviet faction of the Czechoslovak police.

Young people printed leaflets carrying the license numbers and urging Czechoslovaks to hinder the movement of these cars. One report said one of the cars was destroyed.

No shooting was heard during the morning and Prague was generally calm. Soviet tanks occupied all bridges but automobiles were permitted to use at least one.

Svoboda's departure was indicated by the lowering of the presidential flag at Hradcany Castle, his official residence. Svoboda and the Czechoslovak Communist party, which had tried to bring some freedom to the nation, both vowed not to recognize any Soviet puppet government.

Efforts to form such a government apparently were the reason for a visit by Soviet Ambassador Ivan Chervonenko to Svoboda's quarters in Prague Castle Thursday.

The president has declared he would recognize only the legal government headed by Premier Oldrich Cernik, who is in Soviet hands.

He announced that negotiations with Soviet officials in Prague had been fruitless and he was going to Moscow.

"Have trust in me. I expect to be back tonight," he said.

Meeting secretly to avoid Soviet controls, the Communist party called on Czechoslovaks to walk off the job at noon today unless the occupation troops pull out and release Czechoslovak liberal leaders.

A proliberal radio, operating from a hidden location, said 1,219 of the 1,540 party congress delegates attended the meeting but most Slovak delegates were detained on their way to the congress.

The delegates re-elected Alexander Dubcek—the man who ended 20 years of Stalinist-type rule in Czechoslovakia last January—as their leader.

They named Venek Silhan, an economist, to head the party while Dubcek and other top leaders are Soviet captives.

Soviets Veto U.N. Demand

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A Soviet veto today killed an eight-nation resolution that asked the U.N. Security Council to condemn the Soviet-bloc occupation of Czechoslovakia and to call for the troops to withdraw.

The vote was 10-2 with 3 abstentions. The Soviet Union and Hungary voted no. Algeria, India and Pakistan abstained.

Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik vetoed the proposal at 3:28 a.m. after he and Hungarian, Bulgarian and Polish delegates had filibustered past midnight to delay the voting.

U.S. Ambassador George W. Ball said the Soviet Union had just cast its 10th veto. But he declared that it could not "suffocate the soul of a proud people" in Czechoslovakia.

Canadian Ambassador George Ignatieff then introduced a new resolution requesting Secretary-General U. Thant to "dispatch immediately to Prague a special representative who shall seek the release and ensure the personal safety of the Czechoslovak leaders under detention" and report back urgently.

At 3:54 a.m. the council president for the month, Brazilian Ambassador Joao Augusto de Araujo Castro, adjourned the meeting to 5 p.m. today.

Malik told Ball the veto "will continue to afford, as long as the United Nations exists, the possibility for the Soviet Union to defend a just cause."

Malik indicated he would use it once more against Ignatieff's resolution. He said the sponsors wanted to "drag the secretary-general of the United Nations into the affairs of Socialist countries" but would "not succeed."

Demo Credentials Group Splits Georgia Delegation

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic Southerners in November. Hughes said the decision was made on evidence that Negroes were not able to participate fully in Georgia party affairs, and that the state's national convention delegates were named by only two men, Maddox and state party chairman James Gray.

"The system is wrong," Hughes said of Georgia's manner of selecting delegates.

"We are not going to continue to have a party that systematically excludes Negroes, Mexican-Americans or other minority groups."

But he said there was also evidence that the regular Maddox delegation was at least partly representative of Democrats in the state.

The struggle pitted Maddox, who once offered white customers ax handles to keep Negroes from his restaurant, against Negro legislator Julian Bond, who won his seat in the Georgia House only after a Supreme Court ruling.

Hughes declined to say whether he thought Bond would be named on the new Georgia delegation, to be composed of 21 members from each of the contesting slates plus the state's present committeeman and committeewoman.

Both sides had adamantly insisted on an all-or-nothing victory and Hughes said "There might be two dissenting reports" which would bring the battle to the floor when the national convention opens next week.

"We are pleased," said Bond. Lamzar Sizemore, attorney for the Maddox delegation, declined comment.

Heat Shrinks Attendance At State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Fair offers something for everybody—but no air conditioning.

And the weather, humid with temperatures in the 90s, may have been the main reason the fair opened with a small first-day attendance Thursday. The fairgoers totaled 64,047, compared with 191,000 for opening day last year.

So the 115th state fair has a lot of catching up to do. Officials have predicted a total attendance of 1.5 million. The fair runs through Sept. 2.

Today is Toledo Day at the fairgrounds, with grandstand entertainment that includes singer Ed Ames, helicopter acrobatics and music by the All-Ohio Boys' Band.

The fair's first queen was crowned Thursday. Leslie Shroyer, 17, of New Carlisle won the Miss Future Farmers of America title.

House GOP Group To Aid Nominees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio House Republican Campaign Committee to assist GOP nominees for the House of Representatives, will be headed by Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, it was announced today.

The committee comprises 10 incumbent House members who are unopposed for reelection. State Rep. Ralph Fisher of Wooster is vice chairman and Leon Shaffer, administrative assistant to Kurfess, is secretary.

The committee also is composed of Reps. Fred B. Hadley of Pioneer, Rodney H. Hughes of Bellefontaine, George Mastics of Fairview Park, Robert E. Netzel of Laura, Corwin Nixon of Lebanon, Mark C. Schinnerer of Lakewood, Walter L. White of Lima and Robert L. Wilhelm of Van Wert.

LBJ Visit to Soviet Union Derailed by Czech Invasion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret plans by President Johnson for summit talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, possibly in Moscow, have been derailed by the Kremlin crackdown on Czechoslovakia.

Until the invasion of Czechoslovakia, Johnson had expected to hold a return talk with Kosygin overseas about missile curbs and other East-West issues.

Johnson long had hoped to visit the Soviet Union before leaving office. And more recently, he felt that agreed-upon talk between the two superpowers about limiting their nuclear missile and antimissile rivalry furthered the potential of such a trip.

The President's desire for a repeat summit to last year's New Jersey's meeting was underscored by the fact that—even after Soviet forces rolled into Prague—administration spokesmen pointedly refused to rule out a Johnson visit to Russia this fall.

White House Press Secretary George Christian said that despite the Czech crisis Johnson still hewed to his off-state pledge to travel anywhere anytime if that would further the cause of peace.

Another presidential spokesman had no comment on Johnson's trip plans but referred to Christian's statement.

Having gone over the Czech developments and their impact on the international scene with the National Security Council and the cabinet, Johnson invited congressional leaders of both parties for a White House conference today.

Enlisted to brief the legislators were U.S. ambassador to Moscow Llewellyn Thompson, fresh from an Italian vacation, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford and Richard Helms, head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Construction Strike May End Soon

CINCINNATI (AP) — Representatives of about 3,000 striking union carpenters and area contractors reached a tentative agreement late Thursday in the 83-day-old walkout.

The carpenters, the last group of craftsmen in the citywide construction strike who have not made contract settlements, will take a ratification vote at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The strike which began June 1 has nearly paralyzed about $150 million worth of major construction in Greater Cincinnati including work on the Riverfront Sports Stadium which will house the Cincinnati Reds and the Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League.

Losses to both contractors and craftsmen in the strike have been estimated at $4.5 million.

Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann made the announcement of the tentative settlement following an 8½-hour bargaining session. He said it is his understanding that if the carpenters approve a new contract, they will return to work Monday.

Watershed Funds Are Released

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Raymond S. Brown, State Conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service reported today that watershed construction funds have been released for construction on four watersheds in the state.

"Project agreements for construction totaling over $725,000 will be signed within the next week," he said.

Construction can now begin on Margaret Creek Watershed in Athens County, West Fork of Duck Creek Watershed in Noble and Washington Counties, Chipewake Creek in Wayne and Medina Counties and Rush Creek Watershed in Fairfield, Perry and Hocking Counties.

Brown also said that funds for the Little Auglaize Watershed in Paulding, Putnam and Van Wert Counties are expected early this fiscal year.

Kennedy Forces Seeking Vietnam Peace Plank

CHICAGO (AP)—The shadow of Kennedy's past etched itself sharply across the Democratic presidential nomination convention today as committees wrangled over preliminary platform, rules and delegate seating decisions.

The subsidiary bearers of the once powerful mantles of the assassinated President John F. Kennedy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy served blunt notice they will carry to the floor of next week's convention, if necessary, a fight for the "strongest possible peace plank" on Vietnam.

Theodore Sorensen, confidante of both of the slain brothers, told reporters Thursday: "The Democratic platform must have a strong peace plank, or regardless of the nominee, we can forget about the (November) election."

"So we will present to the convention, as a majority plank if that can be, or a minority plank, if that must be, the strongest peace plank that we can draw."

Despite his lack of status as a delegate, Sorensen's voice had an authenticity in expressing the most recent Kennedy viewpoint, substantiated earlier by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in a call for an unconditional halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Sorensen and most other supporters of Sen. Kennedy have not yet found a home for the presently uncommitted delegates from California, New York, Indiana, Nebraska and other states where Kennedy had won primaries and picked up convention support before he was assassinated in Los Angeles on June 4.

They have turned thumbs down on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, by all odds the overwhelming favorite for the presidential nomination scheduled to be awarded next Wednesday night.

Sorensen and his hard-shell Kennedy associates have refused to go over to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., Humphrey's principal opponent. And they have brushed aside the efforts of Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., to attract them to his lately raised banner as a presidential candidate.

The unwillingness of the Kennedy bloc to accept any available substitute for their slain leader was demonstrated in a new attack by California Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh on McCarthy's foreign policy stance.

Unruh said in Los Angeles that it was a mistake to minimize the crisis provoked by Russian troop movements into Czechoslovakia as he said McCarthy had done by saying that he did not view the developments as a "major world crisis."

Unruh, previously represented as leaning toward McCarthy, said that "an ominous possibility exists that the Czechoslovakian attack could be the prelude to further Soviet aggression in Europe." The assembly speaker heads a delegation originally pledged to Kennedy. He has refused thus far to endorse any other candidate.

Massachusetts' Sen. Kennedy has rejected with a measure of finality suggestions that he take a place on the 1968 ticket. But former governor Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio persisted that he will offer Kennedy's name for the top nomination.

Nixon Relaxes In Florida Sun

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon, trailed by Secret Service agents, donned the casual garb of a Florida tourist Thursday and went for a boat ride.

Nixon and the agents boarded a houseboat for a cruise in Biscayne Bay along the Miami shore. Only the bulge of guns under the knit shirts of the security detail distinguished the party from other tourists.

Antiriot Mobile Unit Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Purchase of a mobile command unit to be made available to local law enforcement agencies in riot situations is being planned by the state, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said today.

Reporting to Gov. James A. Rhodes, Saxbe said the mobile unit will be maintained by the Ohio Highway Patrol and will have a comprehensive and flexible communications capability.

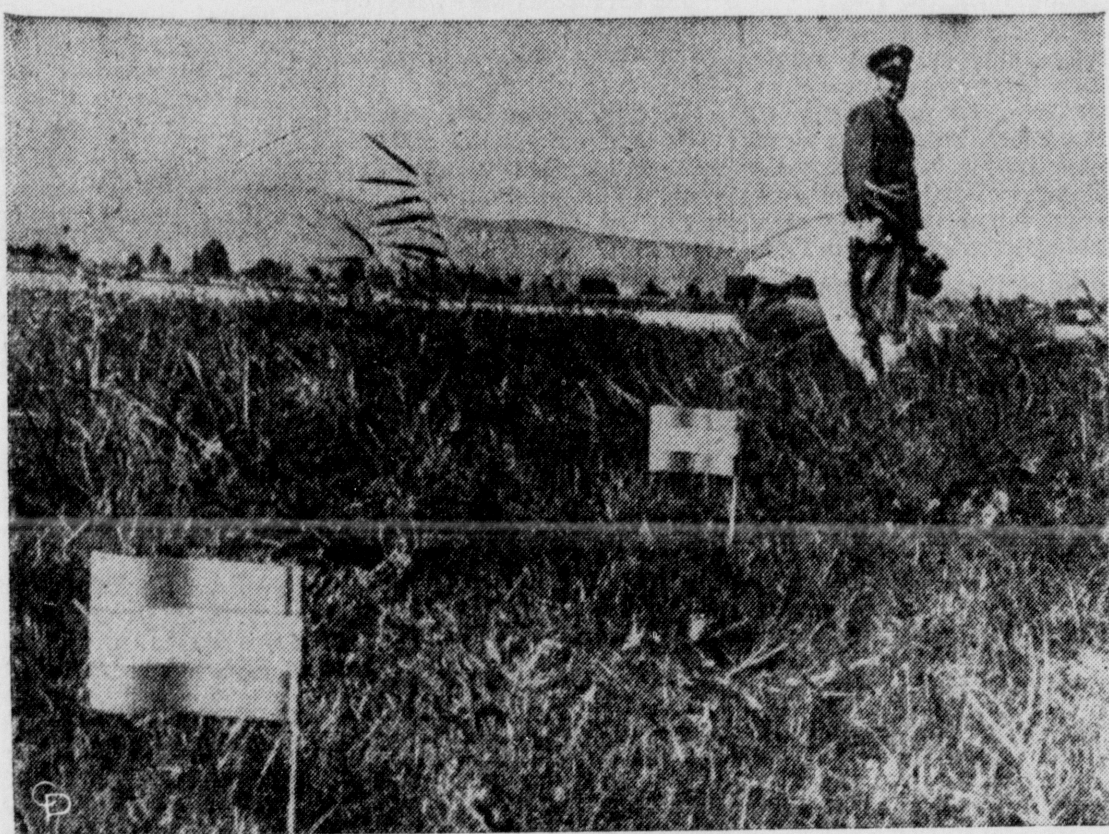

He also said it would be equipped with weapons and protective gear. The mobile unit will be available to all local governments regardless of size, he said.

Saxbe is chairman of the Interim Ohio Law Enforcement Advisory Commission.

Fear Stiffer Line on Pueblo Crew

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 82 officers and men of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo began their eighth month of imprisonment in North Korea today with the Czech crisis thought to diminish any chances of an early release.

The outlook for release of the Americans already was dimmed because of hard-line demands by the North Koreans for a formal U.S. apology for the Pueblo action in allegedly infringing on their territorial waters.

Diplomats here said the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and the resultant strain on East-West relations hardly made it likely for a quick agreement on the Pueblo.

Pro-Moscow Premier Kim Il-Sung of North Korea, who praised the Soviet intervention of Czechoslovakia, has threatened repeatedly to try the Pueblo crew for spying, but he has set no date.

Demo Credentials Group Splits Georgia Delegation

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic National Convention officials forced a settlement today on two warring Georgia delegations in a racial-political fight that may freeze Gov. Lester Maddox, a presidential candidate, out of the convention.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, Credentials Committee chairman, said Georgia's convention votes will be split between the rival delegations and that it would be "a miracle" if Maddox remains a delegate.

Hughes' committee, which also required that the divided delegation pledge itself to the party's presidential nominee, holds veto power over the final make-up of the Georgia slate.

But the dispute may boil over into a bitter convention floor fight which party officials fear could rent their ranks and cost the Democrats either many Negro votes or the support of white Southerners in November.

Hughes said the decision was made on evidence that Negroes were not able to participate fully in Georgia party affairs, and that the state's national convention delegates were named by only two men, Maddox and state party chairman James Gray.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A fire destroyed the Underwriters Salvage Co. of Chicago on Frebis Avenue here early Friday and company officials said the loss could be as high as $500,000. The company sells fire damaged goods for insurance companies.

Construction Strike May End Soon

CINCINNATI (AP) — Representatives of about 3,000 striking union carpenters and area contractors reached a tentative agreement late Thursday in the 83-day-old walkout.

The carpenters, the last group of craftsmen in the citywide construction strike who have not made contract settlements, will take a ratification vote at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The strike which began June 1 has nearly paralyzed about $150 million worth of major construction in Greater Cincinnati including work on the Riverfront Sports Stadium which will house the Cincinnati Reds and the Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League.

Losses to both contractors and craftsmen in the strike have been estimated at $4.5 million.

Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann made the announcement of the tentative settlement following an 8½-hour bargaining session. He said it is his understanding that if the carpenters approve a new contract, they will return to work Monday.

Antiriot Mobile Unit Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Purchase of a mobile command unit to be made available to local law enforcement agencies in riot situations is being planned by the state, Atty. Gen. William E. Saxbe said today.

Reporting to Gov. James A. Rhodes, Saxbe said the mobile unit will be maintained by the Ohio Highway Patrol and will have a comprehensive and flexible communications capability.

He also said it would be equipped with weapons and protective gear. The mobile unit will be available to all local governments regardless of size, he said.

Saxbe is chairman of the Interim Ohio Law Enforcement Advisory Commission.

Kennedy Forces Seeking Vietnam Peace Plank

CHICAGO (AP)—The shadow of Kennedy's past etched itself sharply across the Democratic presidential nomination convention today as committees wrangled over preliminary platform, rules and delegate seating decisions.

The subsidiary bearers of the once powerful mantle of the assassinated President John F. Kennedy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy served blunt notice they will carry to the floor of next week's convention, if necessary, a fight for the "strongest possible peace plank" on Vietnam.

"The Democratic platform must have a strong peace plank, or regardless of the nominee, we can forget about the (November) election."

"So we will present to the convention, as a majority plank if that can be, or a minority plank, if that must be, the strongest peace plank that we can draw."

Despite his lack of status as a delegate, Sorensen's voice had an authenticity in expressing the most recent Kennedy viewpoint, substantiated earlier by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in a call for an unconditional halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Sorensen and most other supporters of Sen. Kennedy have not yet found a home for the presently uncommitted delegates from California, New York, Indiana, Nebraska and other states where Kennedy had won primaries and picked up convention support before he was assassinated in Los Angeles on June 4.

They have turned thumbs down on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, by all odds the overwhelming favorite for the presidential nomination scheduled to be awarded next Wednesday night.

Sorensen and his hard-shell Kennedy associates have refused to go over to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., Humphrey's principal opponent. And they have brushed aside the efforts of Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., to attract them to his lately raised banner as a presidential candidate.

The unwillingness of the Kennedy bloc to accept any available substitute for their slain leader was demonstrated in a new attack by California Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh on McCarthy's foreign policy stance.

Unruh said in Los Angeles that it was a mistake to minimize the crisis provoked by Russian troop movements into Czechoslovakia as he said McCarthy had done by saying that he did not view the developments as a "major world crisis."

Unruh, previously represented as leaning toward McCarthy, said that "an ominous possibility exists that the Czechoslovakian attack could be the prelude to further Soviet aggression in Europe." The assembly speaker heads a delegation originally pledged to Kennedy. He has refused thus far to endorse any other candidate.

Massachusetts' Sen. Kennedy has rejected with a measure of finality suggestions that he take a place on the 1968 ticket. But former governor Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio persisted that he will offer Kennedy's name for the top nomination.

Federal Grand Jury Opens Probe of Plot To Kill Solons

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal grand jury opens an investigation today into an alleged plot to assassinate Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and two senators, and to disrupt next week's Democratic National Convention.

U.S. Atty. Thomas A. Foran said Thursday 16 subpoenas were issued for South Side gang members and some who took part in a peace march on the Pentagon last October.

The rumored assassination plot was to involve Humphrey; Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, also a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, and Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., Foran said.

McClellan headed a Senate investigation into the activities of two South Side youth gangs recently which resulted in their losing a federal antiracketeering grant.

The prosecutor said the report which originated in Cook County jail last week also involved "alleged planning by certain groups to cause civil disturbances" in the Chicago area during the convention and disrupt proceedings.

Shortly after the grand jury probe begins the first contingent of nearly 6,000 Illinois National Guardsmen arrive in Chicago to be used if needed to maintain order in the event of disturbances next week.

The remainder of the troops, requested by Mayor Richard J. Daley, will arrive at armories Saturday.

Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro ordered the troop callup after consulting with Daley, and in the face of threatened antiwar demonstrations around the International Amphitheatre, the convention site, and the downtown hotels where delegates and can-

Grand Jury To Probe Prison Riots

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A special grand jury will be empaneled to consider criminal charges stemming from uprisings June 24 and last Tuesday at Ohio Penitentiary here.

Franklin County Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson said today the panel would deal only with charges lodged against rebellious inmates by the state highway patrol.

Patrol investigators charged 54 in the wake of the June rioting which caused about $1 million damage. A probe of Tuesday's incident is underway.

Prison officials have indicted some convicts will be charged in both disturbances.

Johnson said the grand jury, as yet unscheduled, would be concerned with prison conditions.

Johnson said he had "utmost praise" for men who stormed the prison Wednesday and rescued nine hostages. Five inmates died in the assault.

Johnson said he saw "most" of the clearing operation and is not aware of any undue force by police.

State Solon Blasts Slaying Of 5 Rebellious Prisoners

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state representative charged Thursday that policemen and National Guardsmen who smashed the 29-hour rebellion at Ohio Penitentiary caused a "needless slaughter" of five inmates.

As prison officials were beginning the long return to normal conditions, Rep. C. J. McLin, from Dayton, said he had asked Gov. James A. Rhodes for a full investigation of the disturbance.

McLin said, "The enforcement agents are not executioners. They can't kill at whim."

"I am going to ask not only for an investigation of this incident but for a federal inspection of the whole Ohio prison and mental hospital system,"

McLin added. His charges were immediately dismissed by State Corrections Chief Maury Koblenz, Adj. Gen. S. T. Del Corso and other officials.

At the penitentiary, Warden Marion J. Koloski said the forces which blasted through the walls Wednesday to rescue the nine guards held by inmates as hostages used minimum force.

He said, "They did whatever was necessary to get to the hostages as quickly as possible and get them out alive. For all they knew they were in danger, maybe being killed."

The inmates had threatened to burn the guards to death if an attempt was made to rescue them.

"The inmates had not harmed any of the guards," McLin said. "Reports I received indicate they treated the guards well."

Del Corso said, "All agencies involved at the prison acted with discipline and courage. I wonder if someone would cry 'wolf' if any officers had been killed or injured seriously."

Koloski also said Thursday that armed guards were watching two escape tunnels partially dug during the seige, ready to halt possible breakout attempt.

The tunnels and two holes left in the penitentiary walls by Wednesday's dynamite blasts were being closed Thursday.

Some 200 highway patrolmen and National Guardsmen will remain inside the prison for at least two weeks while officials try to resume normal operations.

3rd U.S. Astronaut Quits NASA

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The third astronaut to resign within five months quit the U.S. space program Friday, cutting the number in the corps to 32.

Dr. John A. Llewellyn, 35, withdrew because, he said, he was having trouble learning to fly jet airplanes.

Dr. Llewellyn, a civilian and a member of the scientist-astronaut group selected in 1967, was the second of the scientist-astronaut to withdraw because of flying problems. Astronauts are required to learn to pilot planes.

Dr. Brian T. O'Leary withdrew April 23 because he disliked flying. Navy Lt. Cmdr. John S. Bull withdrew last month because of a chronic pulmonary ailment.

The scientist is a naturalized U.S. citizen born in Wales. He holds a doctorate degree in chemistry and was an associate professor at Florida State University before joining NASA.

Ohio Traffic Crashes Cost $16 Per Second

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson said today that Ohio traffic accidents chalked up $15.85 in economic costs during every second of 1967.

Carried further, that figure adds up to $51 for each minute, $3,060 for each hour and $500 million for the year, he said.

Nelson added that the economic loss represented $130 million in lost wages, $30 million in medical expenses, $175 million in overhead cost of insurance and $165 million in property damage.

The director also said that Ohio last year had 209,712 motor vehicle accidents, one every two and one-half minutes. He said 118,960 persons were injured, one every four and one-half minutes.

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam announced that he will make a nationwide television appearance tonight to discuss the stepped-up enemy attacks that began last Sunday and shattered a two-month lull in the war.

Military spokesmen said that nearly 2,000 enemy soldiers had been killed in the week of fighting, while allied casualties were light.

Six attacks were reported in the Saigon area amidst reports that elements of two North Vietnamese divisions were on the move from Cambodian border base camps toward the capital.

Sources put some new units near Dau Tikong, 40 miles northwest of Saigon, where U.S. armored columns and North Vietnamese troops have been locked in a weeklong battle for control of a road over which enemy infiltrators must cross en route to the capital.

Suits Are Filed In Air Crash

CHICAGO (AP)—The families of two Middletown, Ohio steel executives killed May 3 in an airline crash filed duplicate suits Thursday, each seeking $1.5 million damages.

The suits were filed in Circuit Court against Braniff Airlines, the commercial flier; Lockheed Aircraft Corp., manufacturer of the plane; and General Motors Corp., a supplier of parts.

The suit charged Braniff with negligence in failing to avoid a storm near Corsicana, Tex., where an Electra crashed killing 84 persons aboard.

Plaintiffs are the survivors of Kenneth P. Cornella, 31, and Robert J. Maxwell, 50, both executives of the Armco Steel Co.

Federal Grand Jury Opens Probe of Plot To Kill Solons

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal grand jury opens an investigation today into an alleged plot to assassinate Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and two senators, and to disrupt next week's Democratic National Convention.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Mines has blamed outdated and inaccurate maps for the mine-wall breakthrough that caused an underground flash flood, killing four men and trapping 21 others near Hominy Falls, W. Va., last May.

The bureau reported Thursday the men did not realize how near they were to an adjacent flooded mine. It said the miners' maps were old and included at least one surveying error.

Fifteen men were trapped for five days after the mine accident May 6. Six other miners, given up for dead, were rescued after a week and a half underground.

WASHINGTON (AP) — About half the inmates of federal prisons are young convicts from 17 to 28 years old.

Myrl E. Alexander, director of the Bureau of Prisons, voiced concern over the increase in young violators Thursday as he reported the number of prisoners had begun to rise after a six-year decline.

Alexander emphasized new rehabilitation programs in the prisons with special attention on education. He said, "It's these kids we have to get to. We must intervene in their criminal careers."

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attorney for Air Force Capt. Dale E. Noyd, convicted of refusing to train fighter pilots for Vietnam, argued Thursday that the number of war veterans on the court martial panel made it impossible for Noyd to receive a fair trial.

Marvin Karparkin, carrying Noyd's appeal before a military review board, said eight of the 10 officers who sat in judgment had returned recently from Vietnam. He said, "They would have to be superhuman to avoid leaning toward the prosecution side."

Noyd, whose application for classification as a conscientious objector had been refused, was convicted last March for refusing to obey orders to train fighter pilots at Cannon Air Force Base in New Mexico. He was sentenced to one year at hard labor and dismissal from the Air Force.

The National Education Association has lifted its sanctions discouraging members from accepting jobs in Florida. The NEA action stemmed from a 1967 statewide strike by teachers. The organization said Thursday it considers education "on the mend" in Florida.

Capital Quote

"That is a type of moral myopia that passes my understanding." —Secretary of State Dean Rusk, answering those who compare the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia with U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

McLin added. His charges were immediately dismissed by State Corrections Chief Maury Koblenz, Adj. Gen. S. T. Del Corso and other officials.

At the penitentiary, Warden Marion J. Koloski said the forces which blasted through the walls Wednesday to rescue the nine guards held by inmates as hostages used minimum force.

He said, "They did whatever was necessary to get to the hostages as quickly as possible and get them out alive. For all they knew they were in danger, maybe being killed."

The inmates had threatened to burn the guards to death if an attempt was made to rescue them.

"The inmates had not harmed any of the guards," McLin said. "Reports I received indicate they treated the guards well."

Del Corso said, "All agencies involved at the prison acted with discipline and courage. I wonder if someone would cry 'wolf' if any officers had been killed or injured seriously."

Koloski also said Thursday that armed guards were watching two escape tunnels partially dug during the siege, ready to halt possible breakout attempt.

The tunnels and two holes left in the penitentiary walls by Wednesday's dynamite blasts were being closed Thursday.

Some 200 highway patrolmen and National Guardsmen will remain inside the prison for at least two weeks while officials try to resume normal operations.

3rd U.S. Astronaut Quits NASA

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The third astronaut to resign within five months quit the U.S. space program Friday, cutting the number in the corps to 52.

Dr. John A. Llewellyn, 35, withdrew because, he said, he was having trouble learning to fly jet airplanes.

Dr. Llewellyn, a civilian and a member of the scientist-astronaut group selected in 1967, was the second of the scientist-astronaut to withdraw because of flying problems. Astronauts are required to learn to pilot planes.

Dr. Brian T. O'Leary withdrew April 23 because he disliked flying. Navy Lt. Cmdr. John S. Bull withdrew last month because of a chronic pulmonary ailment.

The scientist is a naturalized U.S. citizen born in Wales. He holds a doctorate degree in chemistry and was an associate professor at Florida State University before joining NASA.

Ohio Traffic Crashes Cost $16 Per Second

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson said today that Ohio traffic accidents chalked up $15.85 in economic costs during every second of 1967.

Carried further, that figure adds up to $51 for each minute, $9,589,000 for each week and $500 million for the year, he said.

Nelson added that the economic loss represented $30 million in lost wages, $30 million in medical expenses, $175 million in overhead cost of insurance and $165 million in property damage.

The director also said that Ohio last year had 209,712 motor vehicle accidents, one every two and one-half minutes. He said 118,060 persons were injured, one every four and one-half minutes.

At the half Mary K. went to the top and was wide when she began to act a little rough . . . She fell suddenly, throwing Short from the sulky . . . He lit on his head and shoulder . . . His helmet saved him from a more severe injury . . . The horse is "sloved-up" but not seriously hurt, according to John Fissell.

CIRCLEVILLE bugs are in for it again . . . The Plant Pest Control Division of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture will begin dispensing a soil insecticide soon to combat Japanese beetle adults and grubs, which only recently have been found to infest parts of this area, damage a great variety of plants including farm crops, grass, fruit, shrubbery, trees, vegetables and flowers . . . The insecticide is similar to fine sand in appearance and is commonly sold in garden supply stores for control of wire worms, ants, chiggers and bugs . . . Officials from the Dept. of Agriculture said that grass-eating animals such as rabbits should be confined until the area treated is wet down by rain or hosed down . . . For further information it is suggested that interested persons contact the local Agriculture Extension Office.

Chemical Pipe Leaks in Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP) — A pipe in the Pilot Chemical Co. plant in suburban Lockland sprang a leak early today and sulphur dioxide fumes spread over a wide area.

The fumes were noticeable in Lockland, Wyoming and Lincoln Heights.

Firemen from Cincinnati wore rubber suits when they went in to the plant to close off the leak. Lockland firemen lacked the necessary protective gear and several of them suffered from skin irritation from the effects of the fumes.

Yorty Is 'Saved'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Sam Yorty, hearing a noise, opened the door to his outer office Thursday and three police officers carrying guns rushed in. It was a mistake: Painters had accidentally tripped a silent burglar alarm.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For only the second time since the 1964 surgeon general's report linked the use of tobacco to cancer and other diseases, there has been a decline in cigarette smoking, according to government statistics.

The Internal Revenue Service today released figures showing Americans smoked 543.5 billion cigarettes in the fiscal year that "It is a safe assumption," he said in an interview, "that the message is being heard."

Stewart added that there was some evidence of the downturn in studies done by his department earlier this year. But he said there were no immediate plans to delve deeper into the statistics and perhaps capitalize on them in the government's antismoking campaign.

ended last June 30, compared with $45.1 in fiscal 1967.

Although the 28 per cent drop was tiny, the decline interrupted a steadily growing increase in the use of tobacco in the United States since the initial fall following the surgeon general's report four years ago.

While the earlier drop was clearly linked to the cancer scare, there was nothing in the ICRS figures to indicate what caused the latest decline.

Dr. William Stewart, U.S. surgeon general, said, however, that he thinks "the message is finally getting around."

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — After an absence of 23 years, there will again be a warship named for the city of Defiance.

The USS Defiance, a 165-foot patrol gunboat, will be commissioned Saturday at Sturgeon Bay, Wis. The first USS Defiance, an attack transport, was decommissioned in 1919. The second Defiance, a minesweeper, ended active duty in 1945.

The potto, a monkeylike primate that lives in Africa is, the only mammal with a backbone partly outside its body. The vertical spines form a ridge of sharp spikes which the potto uses to slash its enemies.

Seeing is Believing

Can you always believe what your eyes tell you?
An American tourist in a foreign country boasted of the wonders of his land. "Why, we have telescopes that let us see millions of stars!"
He was jolted by the native's reply, "Maybe you see millions of stars and nothing beyond. We see only a few stars and God."
Are you looking for the stars and missing God . . . or harnessing the atom and losing your security . . . or chasing rainbows and missing the gold?
All of us need to look for what the heart can feel, not just what the eyes can see. We need to find God.
Why not look for Him in church Sunday? He is waiting for you.

Can you always believe what your eyes tell you?

An American tourist in a foreign country boasted of the wonders of his own land. "Why, we have telescopes that let us see millions of stars!"

He was jolted by the native's reply, "Maybe you see millions of stars and nothing beyond. We see only a few stars and God."

Are you looking for the stars and missing God... or harnessing the atom and losing your security... or chasing rainbows and missing the gold?

All of us need to look for what the heart can feel, not just what the eyes can see. We need to find God.

Why not look for Him in church Sunday? He is waiting for you.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP)—The invasion of Czechoslovakia is a serious setback to efforts at improving trade relations between the United States and the Eastern European nations on the rim of the Soviet Union.

For various reasons a breakthrough in trade profitable to both East and West had seemed imminent. But these hopes were based on the belief that the economic liberalization of the East would continue rather than be thwarted, and that East-West tensions would relax.

It was against this very economic liberalism and the political threat it involved, represented in recent weeks especially by the Czechoslovakians, Romanians and Yugoslavians, that Russia and its allies applied their military might.

From the Communist side the intervention may signal a return to less trade contact with the West. As for American businessmen, it is bound to cause at least a long pause in their plans to invest in and trade with the growing economies of Eastern Europe.

Such hopes had caught fire in the past couple of years. Direct commercial flight between Moscow and New York was just one of the more obvious evidences of this. Far grander but less publicized preparations were being made for direct investments, in hotels and even manufacturing plants.

As the stigma of trading with the East diminished, such people as the Rockefeller brothers, who control International Basic Economy Corp., and Cyrus Eaton Jr. revealed plans to invest in Communist nations. Eaton has already done so.

From Minneapolis last year a group sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and including men from several nationally known firms, left on a private trade mission to Russia. They were backed by the U.S. government.

Time Magazine two years ago led a tour by 24 of the highest ranking executives and financiers in America to five East European nations for the purpose of investigating trade opportunities. Almost every company involved could be classified as a blue chip.

Aiding this new spirit was the belief among many Americans that the Communists were beginning to show a better understanding of capitalist economies and their methods of operation.

At least, some businessmen thought, the Communists are now emphasizing consumer goods, instituting profit incentives, lessening their reliance on dictatorial marketing and following instead the laws of supply and demand.

The biggest support for this new spirit — perhaps even the initiator of it — was the Johnson administration, which believed that trade bridges not only would aid the economies of both East and West but promote peace as well. Trade, it is said, has its political ends.

Typical of the statements supporting East-West trade was one earlier this year to a congressional committee by Robert Roosa, partner in the investment banking firm of Brown Brothers Harriman and Company.

"Those of us from the United States who have traveled in Eastern Europe, almost to a man," he said, "return with the conviction that the countries represent the most exciting market of potential trade — any where in the world."

The possibilities of this big new market were belatedly appreciated by Americans. Other Western nations years earlier had shed their reluctance to trade with the East Europeans.

During 1965, Western Europe and Japan sold $3.8 billion of goods to the East Europeans, excluding Yugoslavia, and imported close to $4.5 billion from them.

The United States, though, sold only $139 million worth of goods to these countries and imported $138 million. These figures haven't grown substantially since then. They were, however, forecast to swell. The market was there.

The Comecon, sort of an East European common market, includes nations with 330 million people, much more than the combined population on the European economic community and the European Free Trade Association.

These Comecon economies naturally are not as highly developed as nations to the west, but some of them have been growing faster than even the United States. Potentially they are huge markets.

The question now is how badly these markets have been damaged.

The Parallels at Chicago

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

As the Democratic delegates move toward Chicago we could be in for the most chaotic year in U.S. politics since 1912. Somehow it will be fitting if Chicago proves to be the focal point, if not the precipitating agent, of troubles to come.

For it was in the Windy City that the Republicans splintered in 1912, creating a pattern which the Democrats now threaten to follow. The chief difference between 1912 and 1968, which may produce more schisms than you can shake a stick at, is that the old chaos provoked by Teddy Roosevelt's Bull Moose adventure happened in a profoundly innocent country, whereas this year's chaos has all sorts of sinister characters maneuvering in the background.

There was a steam roller at the Republican Chicago convention in 1912 which flattened the credentials presented by Roosevelt partisans from many of the contested states. The atmosphere was ugly; the William Howard Taft men, who had organized the convention, had taken the precautions to hide barbed wire between the speakers' platform and the convention floor. There may have been cheating on the award of contested delegate seats to William Howard Taft, but nobody has ever really proved it. In any event, the squabbles, which eventually sent Roosevelt and his followers into the night to form the Progressive Party, were in the American tradition. No group, with the possible exception of Big Bill Haywood's Wobblies, wanted to use the 1912 convention to break the pattern of U.S. reliance on the ballot box to give us answers to our problems.

In 1912, the Chicago disputants were largely inside

the convention hall. But this year the battles may move from the hall to the streets, and back again, in a turbulent flow that could easily erupt in bloodshed. Between the Yippies, the black power militants, the anarchistic students, and the antiwar picketers, who knows what provocation might send Mayor Daley's police into action?

The candidates are deathly afraid that they may be riding movements which they cannot control. Senator McCarthy, sensing that he may symbolize things to a potential Fourth Party splinter manifestation that he has not explicitly countenanced, has asked that his more ebullient followers stay home. McCarthy is not, psychologically, a man who counts on the power of the streets. But the Humphrey liberal intellectuals — Murray Baron of the New York Liberal Party is one — accuse Gene of showing the wind without regard to the possibility that he may reap a hurricane.

They are planning to ask, in a letter to delegates, or an advertisement, why McCarthy spoke disparagingly of the court that sentenced Yale chaplain William Sloane Coffin and baby doctor Benjamin Spock on charges of conspiring to hurt the draft, and why he told Berkeley students that draft evaders who had gone to Canada should not be punished when they come home. These sorts of questions may be presenting McCarthy without benefit of nuance, but the rough point insisted upon by the Humphrey intellectuals is that Gene, although he is personally a man of reason, has encouraged the feeling among some of his followers that sentiment, provided it is noble in their eyes, should be allowed to override the law. They also ask, with considerable asperity, how Gene could suggest Senator William Fulbright, a man who has never crusaded for civil rights in his home state of Arkansas, for the post of Secretary of State. This would hardly help the cause of peace in the colored world.

It is odd that Humphrey's men should be supporting the majesty of law when one recalls that Hubert once said that if he lived in a ghetto he would have the spirit to run a pretty good revolution himself. But the threat of a column of 100,000 marchers and picketers which the New Left has promised to bring into Chicago has scared practically everybody connected with normal political processes into a fervent constitutionalism.

Maybe it's too late to put the genie back in the bottle. If it is, 1968 will make the chaotic clamors of 1912 seem like a Sunday school picnic by comparison. Come to think of it, Theodore Roosevelt asked in 1912 for the recall of judicial decisions. But at least he wanted people to do the recalling by majority vote, which is not exactly in line with what the Rev. Mr. Coffin and Dr. Spock are talking about when they say that the individual conscience — should be permitted to override the law.

Marcel Marceau

By GENE HANDSAKER

(For Bob Thomas)

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The green-eyed, scraggly haired little Frenchman spoke with gestures from the back seat of his agent's speeding limousine.

"I have played before prisoners condemned to death," said famed pantomimist Marcel Marceau. "I have played before deaf mutes, factory workers and sophisticated audiences."

"Yet everyone could understand, could join in the laughter or tears. Pantomime is the language of the heart."

After five U.S. tours, the tanned, spirited Marceau is here to speak—for the first time from an American state—Saturday and Sunday at the University of California at Los Angeles. His two-part seminar-demonstration, previously presented only at the Sorbonne in Paris, traces the history of pantomime from ancient Greeks and Romans through European theaters to Chaplin and Skelton.

"Universally acknowledged as the world's greatest living pantomimist," as UCLA bills him, Marceau is having a crowded five days here: Lectures at Actors Studio-West... television talks with 20th Century-Fox... a 47-minute turn on a Joey Bishop show, enacting audience-suggested impressions like donning a corset in a high wind. An interview was sandwiched into a fast ride to Rowan & Martin's "Laugh-in" office, where Marceau agreed to a fall appearance.

"I'm a real gypsy," he remarked. He is also:

"In my early 40s and hope to be for 20 years."

—A father of two, separated from his wife.

—A butcher's son, who with childhood playmates imitated "flowers, stones, trees, Chaplin, Robinson Crusoe, Christ. We were mimes without style."

—Creator in 1947 of "Bip," his clown in striped sweater and flowered hat, defeated by both butterflies and lions.

A critic has said Marceau in an impression of youth, maturity, old age and death "accomplishes in less than two minutes what most novelists cannot do in volumes."

The secret, said Marceau, is "making people identify with yourself," like a spectator vicariously becoming a boxer in the ring or a concertgoer "pretending for a moment in his bath-room that he is Caruso."

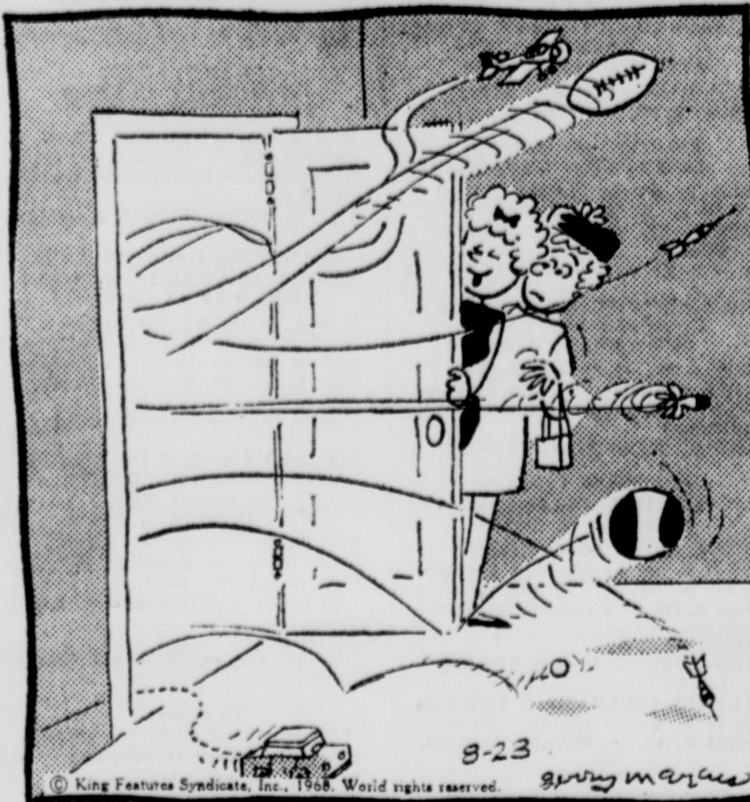

Audiences participate in his pantomime. "When I begin to play, they play with me."

Said Marceau: "Mime is the eternal language. The Greeks and Romans played as we play, and we are in the space age."

"I have performed in 35 countries. In a world confused, where there is violence, hate and despair, the art of pantomime helps bring people closer together."

"Through it you can bring light and love into this dark world."

AN UPSTATE FARMER, visiting Manhattan for the first time, had been diligently warned about pick-pockets, so he carried about with him a substantial roll of stage money, on the outside of which he put a couple of genuine ten-dollar bills. When he returned to his hotel after his first day of sightseeing, he discovered the roll still tucked safely in his pants pocket—but one slight change had been effected. The two bonafide tens were conspicuously missing, and in their place was this penciled message: "Thanks, Wise Guy!"

"No more hard liquor for me," vowed a reformed book salesman. "The last time I succumbed I was so plastered I lost my balance taking off my pants and fell head over heels." "What's so terrible about that?" deprecated his seat-mate. "Lots of people have done that."

"What?" demanded the reformed character. "In the LINCOLN TUNNEL?"

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My husband is recovering satisfactorily from a recent heart attack. He is now in his convalescent period at home after having been in the hospital for seven weeks. He is taking a blood-thinning medicine and has regular blood examinations every week.

A friend of mine whose husband had a heart attack had never had this kind of medicine. I find myself being pressured by her and even my own family to insist on a consultation with another doctor to see if this is necessary. I am at my wits end and hope you can guide me.

Mrs. GS., Rhode Island
Dear Mrs. S.: There are few more exasperating situations in the lives of doctors and patients than the one that you describe. Your friend, who obviously is devoted to you and wishes you and your husband well has only meager knowledge to guide her. The fact that she is related to someone who has recovered from a heart attack does not make her an authority in this field.

This is not unusual. Some people seem to feel that they know all the answers to any medical problem they have encountered and do themselves and their friends a great injustice by barging in on the medical problems of the ones they truly love.

I am certain it must be apparent to them that if your husband's doctor had felt the need for a consultant's opinion during the time of his illness or afterwards he would have welcomed it and asked for it. It must be obvious, too, that his decision to use the blood-thinning medicine was based on your husband's particular need and was unrelated to the problems of another patient.

The fact that your husband is doing so well reflects the excellent care he has received during his acute illness. You may be sure that during those trying seven weeks his doctor probably made hundreds of important decisions, all aimed at the eventual recovery that followed. Certainly, none of these were questioned by your kind, solicitous friends. Now is not the time to begin.

The repeated blood tests that are taken while a patient is taking blood-thinning medicines is known as a prothrombin time study to balance accurately, the amount of the drug for maximum benefit.

Your "social" consultants must not introduce fear into your lives at this stage of the game. Muddling, medical meddlers must limit their practices only to hypothetical cases and not to ones already being treated satisfactorily by doctors.

Establishing a solid bond with a doctor is a great accomplishment and one that is to be treasured for a long time. This trust later becomes the basis for the total health security of a family. Do not permit uninformed opinions to threaten it. Your physician undoubtedly would react with benign, smiling reluctance if you were to suggest that his judgment is being matched against that of your devoted friends. Friendship itself is a great possession but it really is not a required course at medical school.

Food packages are sometimes closed with staples. Be sure that these do not fall into the jar or package. They have been found in the stomachs and lungs of many people.

According to Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Guess what three letter word is causing the most trouble in our fair land?

Hah, I thought you'd say sex. Well, you're wrong, friend. Sex is for the birds and the bees. Fat is for people.

A government report the other day made the complacent claim that very few Americans suffer from dire hunger. Pure gobbledegook. What about the 30-to-40 million blubber-laden U.S. citizens who are dieting?

That's about a fifth of the nation. They feel constantly on the verge of starving. Doesn't their hunger count? It is very real to them.

Personally, I've been on a diet for 48 days and managed to shrink from a wholesome 220 pounds down to 196. My final goal is 180, and it looks farther away than Valhalla or Shangri-La.

The only word for the ordeal is agony. I'd probably have expired weeks ago except for the dog biscuits I was able to sneak and gnaw down when my wife wasn't looking. It has gotten so bad that when I go into the kitchen at the dog's mealtime, he puts his paw on his plate to protect his dinner.

I went on the diet after my doctor examined me and said, "well, you're in shipshape condition."

"Thank you, doc." "But the ship you're shaped like is a battleship," he said. "Take it off, take it off, take it off."

Easier said than done.

America is the only country in the world where it is easier to lose weight than it is to gain weight. It is the only country where middle age automatically seems to turn a man from a girl watcher into a weight watcher.

Everything conspires against the person on a diet. He may have lived like a hermit before, but as soon as he goes on a diet he is inundated with invitations to cocktail parties, backyard barbecues, picnics and gourmet dinners with nine courses.

All at once everyone he ever knew wants to take him to lunch or buy him five drinks. If he accepts, and sticks to his regimen of sauerkraut and club soda water, he assumes the role of the skeleton at the feast. If he ducks the invitations, he is dubbed an ungracious heel.

If he talks about his dieting victories to his friends, they decide he has turned into a braggart and dull bore. If he keeps his trap shut about his diet—and it is, of course, the overwhelming thing on his mind—they decide he's turned into a secretive and sullen bore.

It might be thought that dieters at least could find solace and comfort in conversing with each other about their problems. If the other guy has lost 15 ounces more than you have, you don't want to listen to him; if you've lost 11 ounces more than he has, he doesn't want to listen to you.

In any case, each of you feels sure the other is lying.

Worst of all are the hallucinations. Everything reminds you of a forbidden food. If looking at pretty girls is one of your innocent pleasures in life, it is rather unnerving when you see one to have her, right before your startled eyes, suddenly turn into a chicken dumpling, a mound of mashed potatoes, or a three-decker club sandwich.

Is it all really worth the reward? The reward comes after you finally win the battle against fat, accept the doctor's congratulations, and meet an old pal on the trip home. "Man, have you been sick?" he asks. "You look like a shadow of your old self. Take a tip from me and put on some weight."

It would be nice to punch him in the nose if you didn't feel so feeble.

That's the biggest blow to a dieting fatty—even if he loses he rarely wins.

Your friend, who obviously is devoted to you and wishes you and your husband well has only meager knowledge to guide her. The fact that she is related to someone who has recovered from a heart attack does not make her an authority in this field.

This is not unusual. Some people seem to feel that they know all the answers to any medical problem they have encountered and do themselves and their friends a great injustice by barging in on the medical problems of the ones they truly love.

I am certain it must be apparent to them that if your husband's doctor had felt the need for a consultant's opinion during the time of his illness or afterwards he would have welcomed it and asked for it. It must be obvious, too, that his decision to use the blood-thinning medicine was based on your husband's particular need and was unrelated to the problems of another patient.

The fact that your husband is doing so well reflects the excellent care he has received during his acute illness. You may be sure that during those trying seven weeks his doctor probably made hundreds of important decisions, all aimed at the eventual recovery that followed. Certainly, none of these were questioned by your kind, solicitous friends. Now is not the time to begin.

is known as a prothrombin time study to balance accurately, the amount of the drug for maximum benefit.

Your "social" consultants must not introduce fear into your lives at this stage of the game. Muddling, medical meddlers must limit their practices only to hypothetical cases and not to ones already being treated satisfactorily by doctors.

Establishing a solid bond with a doctor is a great accomplishment and one that is to be treasured for a long time. This trust later becomes the basis for the total health security of a family. Do not permit uninformed opinions to threaten it. Your physician undoubtedly would react with benign, smiling indulgence if you were to suggest that his judgment is being matched against that of your devoted friends. Friendship itself is a great possession but it really is not a required course at medical school.

Food packages are sometimes closed with staples. Be sure that these do not fall into the jar or package. They have been found in the stomachs and lungs of many people.

The sport of archery has become so popular, equipment makers estimate that the more than six million American enthusiasts are now spending approximately $50 million a year for their gear. That's what we call hitting the bull's-eye.

For the first time, archery this year becomes an Olympic Games event. Wouldn't it be wonderful if some full-blooded American Indian won a gold medal in the bow-and-arrow sport?

According to Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Guess what three letter word is causing the most trouble in our fair land?

Hah, I thought you'd say sex. Well, you're wrong, friend. Sex is for the birds and the bees. Fat is for people.

A government report the other day made the complacent claim that very few Americans suffer from dire hunger. Pure gobbledygook. What about the 30-to-40 million blubber-laden U.S. citizens who are dieting?

That's about a fifth of the nation. They feel constantly on the verge of starving. Doesn't their hunger count? It is very real to them.

Personally, I've been on a diet for 48 days and managed to shrink from a wholesome 220 pounds down to 196. My final goal is 180, and it looks farther away than Valhalla or Shangri-La.

The only word for the ordeal is agony. I'd probably have expired weeks ago except for the dog biscuits I was able to sneak and gnaw down when my wife wasn't looking. It has gotten so bad that when I go into the kitchen at the dog's mealtime, he puts his paw on his plate to protect his dinner.

I went on the diet after my doctor examined me and said, "well, you're in shipshape condition."

"Thank you, doc."

"But the ship you're shaped like is a battleship," he said. "Take it off, take it off, take it off."

Easier said than done. America is the only country in the world where it is easier to lose your mind than it is to lose weight. It is the only country where middle age automatically seems to turn a man from a girl watcher into a weight watcher.

Everything conspires against the person on a diet. He may have lived like a hermit before, but as soon as he goes on a diet he is inundated with invitations to cocktail parties, backyard barbecues, picnics and gourmet dinners with nine courses.

All at once everyone he ever knew wants to take him to lunch or buy him five drinks. If he accepts, and sticks to his regimen of sauerkraut and club soda water, he assumes the role of the skeleton at the feast. If he ducks the invitations, he is dubbed an ungracious heel.

If he talks about his dieting victories to his friends, they decide he has turned into a brag-gart and dull bore. If he keeps his trap shut about his diet—and it is, of course, the overwhelming thing on his mind—they decide he's turned into a secretive and sullen bore.

It might be thought that dieters at least could find solace and comfort in conversing with each other about their problems. If the other guy has lost 15 ounces more than you have, you don't want to listen to him; if you've lost 11 ounces more than he has, he doesn't want to listen to you.

In any case, each of you feels sure the other is lying.

Worst of all are the hallucinations. Everything reminds you

Lying Illegal

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A new state law which recently went into effect here sets penalties for persons under 21 who lie about their age in order to buy alcoholic beverages.

of a forbidden food. If looking at pretty girls is one of your innocent pleasures in life, it is rather unnerving when you see one to have her, right before your startled eyes, suddenly turn into a chicken dumpling, a mound of mashed potatoes, or a three-decker club sandwich.

Is it all really worth the reward? The reward comes after you finally win the battle against fat, accept the doctor's congratulations, and meet an old pal on the trip home.

"Man, have you been sick?" he asks. "You look like a shadow of your old self. Take a tip from me and put on some weight."

It would be nice to punch him in the nose if you didn't feel so feeble.

That's the biggest blow to a dieting fatty—even if he loses he rarely wins.

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

The Parallels at Chicago

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

As the Democratic delegates move toward Chicago we could be in for the most chaotic year in U.S. politics since 1912. Somehow it will be fitting if Chicago proves to be the focal point, if not the precipitating agent, of troubles to come.

For it was in the Windy City that the Republicans splintered in 1912, creating a pattern which the Democrats now threaten to follow. The chief difference between 1912 and 1968, which may produce more schisms than you can shake a stick at, is that the old chaos provoked by Teddy Roosevelt's Bull Moose adventure happened in a profoundly innocent country, whereas this year's chaos has all sorts of sinister characters maneuvering in the background.

There was a steam roller at the Republican Chicago convention in 1912 which flamed

the credentials presented by Roosevelt partisans from many of the contested states. The atmosphere was ugly; the William Howard Taft men, who had organized the convention, had taken the precautions to hide barbed wire between the speakers' platform and the convention floor. There may have been cheating on the award of contested delegate seats to William Howard Taft, but nobody has ever really proved it. In any event, the squabbles, which eventually sent Roosevelt and his followers out into the night to form the Progressive Party, were in the American tradition. No group, with the possible exception of Big Bill Haywood's Wobblies, wanted to use the 1912 convention to break the pattern of U.S. reliance on the ballot box to give us answers to our problems.

In 1912, the Chicago disputants were largely inside

the convention hall. But this year the battles may move from the hall to the streets, and back again, in a turbulent flow that could easily erupt in bloodshed. Between the Yippies, the black power militants, the anarchistic students, and the antiwar picketers, who knows what provocation might send Mayor Daley's police into action?

The candidates are deathly afraid that they may be riding movements which they cannot control. Senator McCarthy, sensing that he may symbolize things to a potential Fourth Party splinter manifestation that he has not explicitly countenanced, has asked that his more ebullient followers stay home. McCarthy is not, psychologically, a man who counts on the power of the streets. But the Humphrey liberal intellectuals — Murray Baron of the New York Liberal Party is one — accuse Gene of showing the wind without regard to the possibility that he may reap a hurricane.

They are planning to ask, in a letter to delegates, or an advertisement, why McCarthy spoke disparagingly of the court that sentenced Yale chaplain William Sloane Coffin and baby doctor Benjamin Spock on charges of conspiring to hurt the draft, and why he told Berkeley students that draft evaders who had gone to Canada should not be punished when they come home. These sorts of questions may be presenting McCarthy without benefit of nuance, but the rough point insisted upon by the Humphrey intellectuals is that Gene, although he is personally a man of reason, has encouraged the feeling among some of his followers that sentiment, provided it is noble in their eyes, should be allowed to override the law. They also ask, with considerable asperity, how Gene could suggest Senator William Fulbright, a man who has never crusaded for civil rights in his home state of Arkansas, for the post of Secretary of State. This would hardly help the cause of peace in the colored world.

It is odd that Humphrey's men should be supporting the majesty of law when one recalls that Hubert once said that if he lived in a ghetto he would have the spirit to run a pretty good revolution himself. But the threat of a column of 100,000 marchers and picketers which the New Left has promised to bring into Chicago has scared practically everybody connected with normal political processes into a fervent constitutionalism.

Maybe it's too late to put the genie back in the bottle. If it is, 1968 will make the chaotic clamors of 1912 seem like a Sunday school picnic by comparison. Come to think of it, Theodore Roosevelt asked in 1912 for the recall of judicial decisions. But at least he wanted people to do the recalling by majority vote, which is not exactly in line with what the Rev. Mr. Coffin and Dr. Spock are talking about when they say that the individual conscience — should be permitted to override the law.

Marcel Marceau

By GENE HANDSAKER
(For Bob Thomas)

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The green-eyed, scraggly haired little Frenchman spoke with gestures from the back seat of his agent's speeding limousine.

"I have played before prisoners condemned to death," said famed pantomimist Marcel Marceau. "I have played before deaf mutes, factory workers and sophisticated audiences."

"Yet everyone could understand, could join in the laughter or tears. Pantomime is the language of the heart."

After five U.S. tours, the tanned, spirited Marceau is here to speak—for the first time from an American state—Saturday and Sunday at the University of California at Los Angeles. His two-part seminar-demonstration, previously presented only at the Sorbonne in Paris, traces the history of pantomime from ancient Greeks and Romans through European theater to Chaplin and Skelton.

"Universally acknowledged as the world's greatest living pantomimist," as UCLA bills him, Marceau is having a crowded five days here: Lectures at Actors Studio-West . . . television talks with 20th Century-Fox . . . a 47-minute turn on a Joey Bishop show, enacting audience-suggested impressions like donning a corset in a high wind. An interview was sandwiched into a fast ride to Rowan & Martin's "Laugh-in" office, where Marceau agreed to a fall appearance.

"I'm a real gypsy," he remarked.

He is also:

"In my early 40s and hope to be for 20 years."

—A father of two, separated from his wife.

—A butcher's son, who with childhood playmates initiated "flowers, stones, trees, Chaplin, Robinson Crusoe, Christ. We were mimes without style."

—Creator in 1947 of "Bip," his clown in striped sweater and flowered hat, defeated by both butterflies and lions.

A critic has said Marceau in an impression of youth, maturity, old age and death "accomplishes in less than two minutes what most novelists cannot do in volumes."

The secret, said Marceau, is "making people identify with yourself," like a spectator vicariously becoming a boxer in the ring or a concertgoer "pretending for a moment in his bathroom that he is Caruso."

Audiences participate in his pantomime. "When I begin to play, they play with me."

Said Marceau:

"Mime is the eternal language. The Greeks and Romans played as we play, and we are in the space age."

"I have performed in 55 countries. In a world confused, where there is violence, hate and despair, the art of pantomime helps bring people closer together."

"Through it you can bring light and love into this dark world."

Soviet Generals Appear To Hold Power Balance

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Something seems to be wrong with the Soviet Union's "collective leadership."

Against the background of several years of political maneuvering in Moscow, the invasion of Czechoslovakia suggests a struggle at the top of the Kremlin power structure, with generals and marshals playing an active and possibly decisive role.

The Soviet power structure, by its nature, has seemed a built-in barrier to any real détente in the East-West cold war. And now, Soviet press treatment of the Czechoslovak tragedy supports speculation that the marshals and generals have a big say in running the show, a situation which bodes no good for civilian leaders who arouse their hostility.

Since Stalin's death the military has occupied a more and more prominent role in Soviet politics. Politicians contending for power often had to lean on the generals for support, as Nikita S. Khrushchev did when he threw his foes out of the party and as the new group under Leonid I. Brezhnev did when it threw out Khrushchev.

The Soviet party always has been careful to assert publicly and frequently its domination over the military. But in time of crisis the military can hold the balance of power. The civilian with powerful alliances among the generals increases his chance of success.

Clearly, the invasion of Czechoslovakia was a military decision, and almost as clearly, there was a quarrel about it in the Kremlin involving three factions: those who wanted to go slowly and cautiously, those who wanted to move swiftly to crush the Czechoslovak movement, and those on the fence. It appears the balance wielded by the generals carried the day.

Pravda, voice of the Kremlin, complains that "there have been certain attempts to deal a blow at the Warsaw treaty" in Czechoslovakia. It thunders that "no breach in the Warsaw treaty must be allowed."

Then it adds: "Czechoslovak frontiers on the west were actually open from the Czechoslovak side. This created a situation in which saboteurs and spies smuggled by imperialist intelligence services began crossing freely into Czechoslovakia from Western countries."

Teachers Unhappy In Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Many of Youngstown's teachers may stay away from school the first day and hold seminars instead.

1968 Soybean Support Rate Is Announced

Pickaway County price support rate for 1968 - crop soybeans was announced today by Galen D. Mowery, chairman of Pickaway County ASC Committee.

Rate for Pickaway County is $2.49 per bushel for 1968-crop soybeans which is the same as for the 1967 crop.

County rates are for Number Two grade soybeans and are based on historical market price relationships throughout the soybean producing areas.

Some of the factors influencing market price relationships are the accessibility to crushing and export facilities, cost of transportation to market outlets and the existence of adequate storage which permits more orderly marketing.

Adjustments from the 1967 loan rates of one cent per bushel (increases and decreases) were made in a number of counties due to shifts of economic relationships within the major producing areas of the State.

Premiums and discounts are the same as for the 1967 crop. Loans are available through June 30, 1969, and will mature on July 31, 1969.

The Mayor's Report

Citizens' Opinions Asked

By MAYOR RICHARD L. GERHARDT

Many years ago Thomas Jefferson warned that "the greatest tyranny over the minds of man was apathy." This is as true today as it was those many years ago.

At the first meeting in August of city council, Councilman David Goldschmidt requested that people write to the members of council and express their thoughts on the problems facing the city. In the last edition of this column, I made a similar request for people to write to me stating their views on the issues confronting Circleville. I expressed the opinion that a public discussion of the issues would be healthy for the city.

Last Tuesday when Goldschmidt asked if anyone had received any letters, the response was negative from all of the members. I was a little more fortunate, I received three letters.

Both Council and the Mayor are guided by and responsible to the people. Regardless of what is generally thought that each citizen's voice is not considered important, or that just one person's opinion does not count, speaking for myself I assure you that everything and everyone who takes the time to write or call me is listened to and I am sure the same is true of all the councilmen. Certainly not every request can be made, but if it is possible and in the best interest of Circleville, everything possible is done to accomplish the request.

I would welcome, and I certainly feel council would also, comments on topics as recreation, parks, city services, police and fire protection, the financial situation of the city, and any other subject related to the better and more efficiency running of the city of Circleville.

It is my belief that the more involved the people are in government and the more people that actively get involved, the better and more responsible government will be. Many times I have said that it is the duty of every citizen to become involved, and not just to be a spectator. The other day two young high school men came into my office "just to talk to me." We talked for sometime, agreed on some matters and disagreed on others. But the important point was that they wanted to get involved and they wanted to get involved right away and without being asked.

Your opinions are wanted and they are individually important to the receiver. Write to your councilmen and the mayor, they are elected to serve you, the people.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Huey P. Newton, the Black Panther leader charged with the murder of one policeman and attempt to murder another, testified Thursday, "I did not shoot anyone; I have never shot anyone."

The 26-year-old founder of the militant Negro organization was articulate and relaxed as he testified about events Oct. 28, the day of the killing. He was cross-examined by the prosecution before court recessed until Monday, when the cross-examination resumes.

The state charges that Newton shot Patrolman John Frey five times and killed him, and that he shot and wounded Patrolman Herbert Heanes. One prosecution witness has testified he saw Newton draw a gun, shoot, and grapple with Frey.

Newton Denies Slaying Officer, Wounding Other

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Huey P. Newton, the Black Panther leader charged with the murder of one policeman and attempt to murder another, testified Thursday, "I did not shoot anyone; I have never shot anyone."

The 26-year-old founder of the militant Negro organization was articulate and relaxed as he testified about events Oct. 23, the day of the killing. He was cross-examined by the prosecution before court recessed until Monday, when the cross-examination resumes.

The state charges that Newton shot Patrolman John Frey five times and killed him, and that he shot and wounded Patrolman Herbert Heanes. One prosecution witness has testified he saw Newton draw a gun, shoot, and grapple with Frey.

1968 Soybean Support Rate Is Announced

Pickaway County price support rate for 1968 - crop soybeans was announced today by Galen D. Mowery, chairman of Pickaway County ASC Committee.

Rate for Pickaway County is $2.49 per bushel for 1968-crop soybeans which is the same as for the 1967 crop.

County rates are for Number Two grade soybeans and are based on historical market price relationships throughout the soybean producing areas.

Some of the factors influencing market price relationships are the accessibility to crushing and export facilities, cost of transportation to market outlets and the existence of adequate storage which permits more orderly marketing.

Adjustments from the 1967 loan rates of one cent per bushel (increases and decreases) were made in a number of counties due to shifts of economic relationships within the major producing areas of the State.

Premiums and discounts are the same as for the 1967 crop. Loans are available through June 30, 1969, and will mature on July 31, 1969.

SCOTTI — A smart two-piece dress in a polyester and cotton blend fabric combines solid color long-sleeved blouse with a bias-front tartan plaid jumper accented with brass buttons.

THE TENT — A schoolgirl's smock in bold, bright no-iron brown or blue plaid, is all tied up with a long flowing tie. For a neat, pristine touch, it is collared and cuffed in white.

SHIRTDRESS — An empire fall of pleats in permanent press stain-repellent windowpane check fabric creates a neat look enhanced by white collar and cuffs and gleam of black patent buttons and belt.

School-Mates Team Up With Chic Fashions

By TAD ROWADY

It's time to get ready for school, time to plan, time to look into what's new in the way of fashions for the young ladies in the 3 to 6x and 7 to 14 size and age groups.

Girls' fashions for Fall will have suppleness, softness, and a movement closer to the natural body lines. As in teenage and adult fashions, the silhouettes that will crop up everywhere will include the dirndl (the gently gathered skirt), fit-and-flare (shaped with curved seaming, narrow at the top, wide below) and the belted or sashed (A-line, straight or shirtwaist).

In dresses, the dirndl will show up in shirtwaists, the sashed Victorian or Pretty Romantics look, knits and in the puffed bodice peasant fashions. In suits, dirndls take the form of belted and semi-pleated skirts topped by waist, hip and long length jackets.

The Fall fashion crop is varied and yields a fine assortment of jacket dresses, smart casual and sports separates, jumpers (a stellar attraction), shirtwaist styles, pants, culottes, party and semi-dress affairs and simple, uncluttered, tailored shapes with a dash of white or trimming to relieve the starkness.

Fabrics cover the gamut — from heavy cottons and sheer wools to stiff taffetas and luxury velvets. Many are bonded for retention of shape. Almost all have easy care, no iron features.

Leather, real and pretend, is strong on the horizon particularly the "cuir sauvage" (wild leather) type. Knits share center stage. They are comfortable, versatile and colorful. Both are new in many collections for children.

Colors continue to be important but the browns and greys in solids and in combinations are the wardrobe backbones for '68. Yellows vary from medium to golden tones; greens are richer and more vibrant; reds are somewhat brighter and clearer and blues are clear brilliant Bristol or electric darkening to navy.

Special accents show-and-tell the fashion story also in ruffles, ties, patent belts, sashes, buttons, closings and bows.

Here depicted are some of the neat, trim fashions which should be in every young girl's wardrobe. Selected from the extensive, good-looking Mary Jane collection for 1968, they illustrate delightfully the Back-to-School look and will win the hearty approval of mothers since they possess, in addition to smart styling, many time-saving wash-and-wear, stain-repellent features.

Kids Can Be Spotless; Their Clothes, at Least

By ELEANOR ROSS

Continuing our survey of what's new for children's clothing this fall, let's look at outerwear. Who would have dreamed that mother could actually toss a pile-lined corduroy jacket into a washer and dryer with the assurance that it would emerge looking better than ever. In fact, jackets, rainwear, coats, and bulky sweaters bounce right back like new.

Special Lining

To keep children warmer on their way to school, or while playing in the snow, look for new snow pants with special thermal linings, also jackets that feature a half-inch layer of insulating material between the outer fabric and the lining. These are guaranteed 100 per cent washable, and dry in a jiffy.

Many very young children will be off to their first day in school in imitation leather. Little "leather" jackets with the Western look have come over from Paris this year, with leather trousers to match. Just a sponging with suds will whisk away spots and dirt. Many other outfits feature this "leather" in combinations with corduroy, canvas or combined with knits. Whether it's actually a part of the garment or used as an accent for pockets, collars and cuffs, or button trim, leather — or its nearest imitation — is everywhere. The Bonnie and Clyde look is still here, though many fashion sources are calling it the "little gangster" or "banker's stripes" look. For boys, it's chalk stripes on a sharp color, such as bright blue; for girls, the color is grey with white stripes. Ruffled blouses with jabots will be worn by girls, while boys will sport turtle-necks.

Most important in the new season is the Nehru suit or sport jacket for boys, often styled in a velvet-like, ribless corduroy. This is worn with a basic turtle-neck and beads or a medalion; the suits come in either long or short pants. Girls, too, go for the Nehru look in blouses that they love to wear with those plaid dirndl skirts that are so popular.

Lively Style

The shirt 'n' skirt silhouette is alive and doing well. In addition to the Nehrus, the Victorian jabot, the Mao blouses for even the tiniest girl in the family are popping up all over. The little peasant look, with lovely Tyrolean embroidery on the sleeves and bodices of smocked dresses, is soft and cute for the lunchbox set. The wash-fast colors are usually bright on off-white or ecru.

It's a bright fall for fashion awareness for every phase in the small-fry world. And how Potent Water Has That Zing!

ISTANBUL (AP) — A spring of water that reportedly can strengthen a man's sexual powers has been discovered in Western Turkey, the semiofficial Anatolia news agency reported today.

Anatolia said the spring was near Gonen, about 200 miles southwest of Istanbul. It said ruins found around the area indicated ancient Egyptians and Byzantines had built palaces for the purpose of making use of the water.

The fact that so many men of 60 and more have become fathers in that region prompted officials to have the water analyzed, the agency reported. The test results have not yet been made public.

Pope Is Given Tumultuous Welcome by Colombians

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) —
Pope Paul VI was hailed as the Pope of hope by thousands of Colombians who watched with emotion as the pontiff kissed the soil when first setting foot in this part of the world.

Many wept Thursday as they witnessed this act of humility by the Pope and proclaimed it the crowning moment of his historic visit.

The pontiff journeyed by helicopter today to a meeting with thousands of Latin-American peasants in a huge meadow, called San Jose Field, outside the village of Mosquera, 18 miles from Bogota.

His address is expected to be of far-reaching significance.
The Catholic hierarchy is already on record stressing that the Church will take a more active role in the effort to help
Latin America's impoverished millions.

The 70-year-old pontiff's welcome Thursday was described as the most tumultuous of his six trips abroad. Cries of "Viva El Papa!" resounded wherever he went in this Colombian capital. Some exclaimed: "He's truly a Pope of hope!"

The long day of papal activities, witnessed by hundreds of thousands of Colombian and foreign pilgrims, ended at 8 p.m.
with the ordination of 161 priests and 41 deacons.

In a way, this ceremony underlined the Church's efforts to bolster its thinning ranks in Latin America. A source close to the Pope's party said many of the new priests were under the required minimum age of 24 years and had not fully completed their studies.

The deacons were the first to receive the lowest form of sacred orders which allow them to administer many sacraments but not say Mass or hear confessions. Four of them are married. Their ordination allows priests to devote more time to other functions. The decline in religious vocations has adversely affected the Church's work in Latin America, Church sources said.

The ordination ceremony was part of the program of the 39th
International Eucharistic Congress. It was held on the vast congress grounds in windy, chilly weather. Some in the crowd carried signs that said
"Holy Father pray for Czechoslovakia."

The recipient, Leonard Drake,
43, of Eugene, Ore., has suffered from a heart ailment for 12 years.

At the time of the accident,
Smith was on leave from Camp Pendleton, Calif., visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith. He was to leave for Vietnam. His parents said Larry, youngest of their 12 children, had volunteered three times for combat.

Since his arrival at Stanford Hospital in June, Drake had been kept under close medical care awaiting a donor. Earlier, he had been treated at the University of Oregon Medical School.

Because of his heart illness,
Drake had retired from his postal job and for the past year and a half had worked as a bailiff for the Lane County District Court in Eugene.

Drake and his wife have two children, Vicki, 11, and Jimmy, 10.

This was the 33rd heart transplant operation and 14 of the patients are still alive.

33rd Heart Transplant Performed

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) —

Surgeons at Stanford University Hospital transplanted the heart of a Marine into the chest of a retired Oregon postal clerk today.

The donor, Cpl. Larry B.
Smith, 20, of Stockton, Calif., suffered what physicians termed irreversible brain damage in an automobile accident
Aug. 14 near Stockton.

Beatle's Wife Seeks Divorce

LONDON (AP) — John Lennon of the Beatles was sued for divorce Thursday by his wife,
Cynthia, 27. She said Yoko Ono, the Japanese actress, was "the other woman" in his life.

The Lenons were married in 1962 and have a 5-year-old son.

He and Miss Ono filed what the British divorce courts call
"an acknowledgement of service," meaning a denial of the charge of adultery.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Flyer's Behavior Was Not Uniform

DEAR ABBY: You always tell girls that men in uniform are O.K. I would have agreed with you a few years ago, but not any more. I learned my lessons with a guy in the Air Force. Boy, was he ever a wolf! I never saw a guy work so fast in all my life.

He was a perfect gentleman as long as he was in uniform, but the minute he got out of uniform he was a changed person.

ANNE LOU
DEAR ANNIE: You never should have let him take his uniform off.

DEAR ABBY: We have two sons, 11 and 14. My husband opened a savings account for each of them when they were born, and he keeps putting money into it for their education, plus any money they get from their grandparents for birthdays, Christmas, etc.

However, every cent they get their hands on (allowance or money for doing odd jobs) they fritter away on foolishness, so their father laid down a rule. HALF of all the money they earn has to go into the bank.

Now they sit on their duffs and refuse to do odd jobs to earn extra money. They say, "Daddy will only make us put it in the bank."

What can parents do about kids who have that attitude? We want to teach them to save. Have you or other parents any ideas?

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Aug. 23, the 236th day of 1968. There are 130 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1500, Christopher Columbus, accused of mistreating the natives of Haiti, was arrested there and ordered sent back to Spain in chains.

On this date:

In 1775, King George III of England proclaimed the existence of open rebellion in the American colonies.

In 1879, followers of Mary Baker Eddy obtained a charter in Lynn, Mass. to organize as the Church of Christ, Scientist.

In 1914, Japan declared war on Germany in World War I.

In 1923, the first real comedians of radio broadcasting, Billy Jones and Ernie Her, went on the air as "The Happiness Boys."

In 1926, American women mourned the death in New York of movie idol Rudolph Valentino.

In 1944, Allied troops fighting in France in World War II captured Marseille.

Ten years ago—Shore batteries in Communist China shelled the off-shore islands of Quemoy and Little Quemoy.

Five years ago—Israel and Syria agreed to a United Nations appeal for a cease-fire of ten an outbreak of hostilities.

One year ago—France said it would step up its cultural and technical aid to the Canadian Province of Quebec.

child to save makes saving a bitter experience. Let them "fritter away their allowances on foolishness." And let them "sit on their duffs" instead of doing odd jobs to earn extra money, and they will soon realize that they are cheating only themselves.

The best way to learn the value of money is to be without it for awhile.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to comment on letters appearing in your column in which people describe intolerable situations with in-laws, friends or neighbors who impose upon them. They ask you, "What shall I do?"

I used to be irritated with your stock answer: "TELL the person how you feel!"

I think in almost every case, the writer knows that this is the only solution, but he hopes you will have some magic words that will make it easier for him. Telling others how you feel doesn't necessarily mean telling them OFF.

I was faced with a very annoying situation. Some of our friends used to drop by our beach home every Sunday morning. They'd spend the entire day there, drinking our beer, eating our food, and messing up our shower with wet towels. Then one day I faced the issue and told them firmly, but quietly that the situation had gotten out of hand and in the future they were welcome only when invited. I didn't apologize for telling them.

I just "up and told 'em," which wasn't easy. Now I'm sorry I didn't tell them sooner. At first they were a little hurt, but they got over it, and we are still good friends. They come only when invited and we like it that way.

I just wanted to say, "There are no magic words to put into people's mouths. From Dear Abby, or anybody else."

Today is Friday, Aug. 23, the 236th day of 1968. There are 130 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1500, Christopher Columbus, accused of mistreating the natives of Haiti, was arrested there and ordered sent back to Spain in chains.

On this date:

In 1775, King George III of England proclaimed the existence of open rebellion in the American colonies.

In 1879, followers of Mary Baker Eddy obtained a charter in Lynn, Mass. to organize as the Church of Christ, Scientist.

In 1914, Japan declared war on Germany in World War I.

In 1923, the first real comedians of radio broadcasting, Billy Jones and Ernie Her, went on the air as "The Happiness Boys."

In 1926, American women mourned the death in New York of movie idol Rudolph Valentino.

In 1944, Allied troops fighting in France in World War II captured Marseille.

Ten years ago—Shore batteries in Communist China shelled the offshore islands of Quemoy and Little Quemoy.

Five years ago—Israel and Syria agreed to a United Nations appeal for a cease-fire often an outbreak of hostilities.

One year ago—France said it would step up its cultural and technical aid to the Canadian Province of Quebec.

child to save makes saving a bitter experience. Let them "fritter away their allowances on foolishness." And let them "sit on their duffs" instead of doing odd jobs to earn extra money, and they will soon realize that they are cheating only themselves.

The best way to learn the value of money is to be without it for awhile.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to comment on letters appearing in your column in which people describe intolerable situations with in-laws, friends or neighbors who impose upon them. They ask you, "What shall I do?"

I used to be irritated with your stock answer: "TELL the person how you feel!"

I think in almost every case, the writer knows that this is the only solution, but he hopes you will have some magic words that will make it easier for him. Telling others how you feel doesn't necessarily mean telling them OFF.

I was faced with a very annoying situation. Some of our friends used to drop by our beach home every Sunday morning. They'd spend the entire day there, drinking our beer, eating our food, and messing up our shower with wet towels. Then one day I faced the issue and told them firmly, but quietly that the situation had gotten out of hand and in the future they were welcome only when invited. I didn't apologize for telling them. I just "up and told 'em," which wasn't easy. Now I'm sorry I didn't tell them sooner. At first they were a little hurt, but they got over it, and we are still good friends. They come only when invited and we like it that way.

I just wanted to say, "There are no magic words to put into people's mouths. From Dear Abby, or anybody else."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — While a few television newcomers are attracting the lion's share of pre-season attention, some others are being almost snubbed. Historically, however, some of the "sleepers" and shows given little chance have proved to be among the industry's most durable commodities.

"The Beverly Hillbillies," for instance, was not enthusiastically received when it started—seven years ago. "Peyton Place" started with critical groans—five years ago. "The Flying Nun" arrived last season when the wise ones declared that fantasy was dead. All, however, are back and healthy.

Some new shows will slip into the TV channels next month with comparatively little splash, too. One to keep an eye on is a CBS half-hour show called "Two Good Guys."

For one thing, it stars Bob Denver, a lanky, casual comedy actor who looks younger than his 33 years and has never been caught in a television trap.

An elementary grades teacher with an interest in acting, Denver made the TV big time with his third professional role—Maynard G. Krebs, the bearded hippie in "Dobie Gillis" that ran for all those CBS seasons. When that creaked to a halt, Denver immediately popped up a Gilligan in "Gilligan's Island," a kookie series that was denounced by everyone except a large and adoring audience.

Denver, come to think of it, has never been critically acclaimed and his "Gilligan's Island" replaced "Beverly Hillbillies" as the example most often used when high-brow critics wanted to show the intellectual level of television entertainment. It went on and on. However, it lasted for several seasons: Denver and company made people laugh.

Now, co-starred with another funny fellow, Herb Edelman, Denver will continue playing Denver, this time as a cab driver full of money-making schemes that, of course, misfire.

Harriman Sees Cutback Possible

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, in an interview released today, said withdrawal of U.S., allied and North Vietnamese forces from South Vietnam "can start very soon" if North Vietnam would agree to such action.

He said the United States asked "many times" if the recent lull in the fighting in South Vietnam was a sign of military restraint by North Vietnam. "They have refused to answer at all," he said.

The interview was taped for Japanese television last Thursday before the renewed enemy

Mississippi River Lampighter Dies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A tradition on the Mississippi River moved closer to its finish Thursday with the death of Robert Rawes, 73, long-time river beacon lampighter for the U.S. Coast Guard at Helena, Ark.

Rawes, who died at Memphis Veterans Hospital, was the last active lampighter for the Coast Guard except for one who tends lights north of Memphis, the Coast Guard said.

Battery operated beacons are now used on the river instead of oil lamps.

Agnew To Visit Ohio Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, Republican vice presidential candidate, will be in Columbus and Cincinnati Saturday for quick visits with Gov. James A. Rhodes, state GOP leaders and workers.

Agnew is to arrive in Columbus about 1 p.m., meet with several hundred Republicans at the governor's mansion, leave for Cincinnati about 4:45 and address about 5,000 persons at the annual Hamilton county Republican picnic.

Philpot Crusade Plans Meeting

The next area wide prayer meeting of the Ford Philpot Crusade will be conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Williamsport Methodist Church in Williamsport.

This prayer service is open to all denominations in the county and surrounding area.

The Ford Philpot Crusade is scheduled for Nov. 13 through 24 at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

There will be an usher practice session for all men interested in being an usher for the Crusade Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Those interested should report to Harry Betts.

Harriman Sees Cutback Possible

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, in an interview released today, said withdrawal of U.S. allied and North Vietnamese forces from South Vietnam "can start very soon" if North Vietnam would agree to such action.

He said the United States asked "many times" if the recent lull in the fighting in South Vietnam was a sign of military restraint by North Vietnam. "They have refused to answer at all," he said.

The interview was taped for Japanese television last Thursday before the renewed enemy

Mississippi River Lampighter Dies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A tradition on the Mississippi River moved closer to its finish Thursday with the death of Robert Rawes, 73, long-time river beacon lampighter for the U.S. Coast Guard at Helena, Ark.

Rawes, who died at Memphis Veterans Hospital, was the last active lampighter for the Coast Guard except for one who tends lights north of Memphis, the Coast Guard said.

Battery operated beacons are now used on the river instead of oil lamps.

With a week of practice now history, Circleville's football picture is beginning to develop along definite lines.

Head coach Denny Williams, with about 50 candidates still dressing for the practice sessions, has picked most of the gridders who will be seeing starting action.

Lineman tabbed for first team duty are Phil Diehl, a senior, and Dick Walters, a junior, at ends; Don Cordle and Wayne Garrison, both seniors, at tackles Mark Ralston and Jim Samuel, both seniors, guards and Steve Barthelmas, another senior, at center.

Brent Liston and Dick Radcliff, a junior and sophomore respectively, will be getting a second look from coaches at the end position and will help add depth to this position.

BRUCE Liston, who at 200 pounds is one of the biggest candidates for the squad, along with Steve Olney cannot be overlooked at tackle according to Williams.

Providing backup strength at offensive guard for Ralston and Samuel are John Schroeder and Steve Lingo.

Rick Sims has been the quarterback thus far for the Tiger varsity.

Danny Smith and Mike Henderson have been vying for the tailback position. In addition, Henderson is the backup quarterback for the squad right now.

Will Bost and Eddie Wells are battling for the fullback position. Frankie Carter and Paul Bost are the slotback candidates.

The Bost brothers are transfer students from Amanda Clearcreek High School. Both are big strong runners.

"THERE'S good competition in the backfield," Williams said. "Will Bost and Eddie Wells are both too good to be sitting on the bench and they will play somewhere."

Tom Bowers, a sophomore is making a strong bid for the quarterback position, and at the present Mike Smith cannot be counted out of the backfield picture.

On defense, Wells and Paul Bost will get the first call at defensive end with Barthelmas tabbed for reserve strength there.

Interior guards are Garrison and Cordle, with Bruce Liston adding support.

The veteran Jim Samuel will be back at his familiar middle linebacker slot. Flanking him will be Steve Olney and Mark Ralston. The invert positions will be held down by Will Bost and Rick Sims.

THE Tigers have had one bad injury. Gregg Roll has been lost for the season with a fractured ankle. Other than the usual bumps, bruises and sore muscles, the Tigers are healthy.

Fifty-eight hopefuls took physicals for the Tiger grid team. About eight or nine have dropped by the wayside according to the coach, but he still has about 50 boys playing.

Helping Williams and varsity assistants Dick Fisher, Jim Lint with the coaching duties are Danny Fouts, frosh mentor, and Brent Bell, junior high coach.

HOLD THAT TIGER — The backs and guards concentrated on blowing the defensive end out of position in this drill, but they weren't always successful as can be seen here. The Tigers appear to have fair depth this year, although they lack experience at most positions.

BLOCKING DRILL — Circleville's Tigers were concentrating on fundamentals Thursday. Assistant Coach Dick Fisher was putting a group of backs through a blocking drill when this photo was snapped.

Frosh Grid Candidates Meeting Set

All freshman football candidates for the Circleville squad are asked to report to the junior high school locker rooms 4 p.m. Saturday to receive equipment.

Students are to bring signed physical cards at that time, Danny Fouts, head freshman coach said. Frosh hopefuls who have not yet taken their physicals should see Fouts for the cards.

Fouts expects about 35 candidates for the squad. He believes the squad will have good size and a lot of depth, particularly in the line.

Jets Whip Mud Hens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If Toledo's Mud Hens fail to win the international League pennant this year, it will be due in large measure to their inability to master the Columbus Jets in general — and Manny Sanguillen in particular.

When the streaking Jets whipped the Mud Hens 9-2 Thursday night, it was their 11th victory over Toledo in 18 meetings. The Jets moved within three games of the league leaders.

Sanguillen, the Columbus catcher, as usual was the principal thorn in the side of the Mud Hens, singling twice in four trips and knocking in two runs that put the Jets ahead for keeps in the fourth inning.

In his last 23 times at bat against Toledo, Sanguillen has rapped out 12 hits including three homers.

The Columbus - Toledo game was one of only two that the weather permitted Thursday night. Buffalo downed Louisville 3-1 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader, but rain washed out the nightcap.

Pro Gridders in 13-Game Slate

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Preseason professional football—those no-count games that lead to do-count injuries, roster cuts and the loss of jobs by veterans to newcomers—launches another busy weekend tonight.

Of the five games, two are interleague skirmishes. They send the New York Jets of the American Football League against the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League at Birmingham, Ala., and the NFL San Francisco 49ers against the AFL Broncos at Denver.

Boston plays Miami at Jacksonville, Fla., and Buffalo meets Houston at Tulsa, Okla., in AFL action while Baltimore is a Detroit in an NFL contest.

The five contests are part of a 13-game weekend schedule, highlighted by Saturday night's NFL Green Bay at Dallas game, which will be nationally televised.

The Jets said Thursday that quarterback Joe Namath is expected to play against the Falcons. The former Alabama star, troubled by a sore left knee, missed the first two exhibition games, which the Jets split.

Injuries will keep tight end Pete Lammons, flanker Don Maynard and center John Schmitt out of the Jets' line-up. Ron VanderKelen, No. 2 quarterback behind Randy Johnson, is expected to start for the Falcons, who have lost their first two games.

In other interleague games—the AFL leads the NFL 7-4—San Francisco will be looking for its first victory under new coach Dick Nolan. The 49ers lost their first three games. John Brodie is slated to start at quarterback.

End Sonny Randle and tackle Len Rohde are expected to return to action for Denver, 1-1, after recovering from injuries.

Unbeaten Houston, which won three games in the Astro dome, will try to keep its streak intact with a victory over Buffalo outdoors at Tulsa. Quarterback Pete Beathard once again will be at the controls for the Oilers.

Veteran quarterback Jack Kemp suffered a charley horse in Buffalo's victory over Cincinnati and is listed as a doubtful starter for the Bills, 2-0-1. Dan Darragh is Kemp's backup man.

Fullback Jim Nance, the AFL's leading rusher the past two seasons, will be surrounded by quarterback Mike Taliaferro and rookies Aaron Marsh at flanker and R.C. Gamble at halfback as Boston tries to make Miami its first victim after two losses.

Boston's only touchdown in those losses was scored by the defense.

Rookie quarterback Kim Hammond is scheduled to start and play three quarters, with Bob Griese finishing up, for the Dolphins. They have won one and tied one.

Veteran Johnny Unitas and young Terry Southern will split the quarterbacking for Baltimore, 3-0, against Detroit, which will try to improve its 1-1 mark behind quarterback Bill Munson. It will be Munson's first appearance since leg surgery.

Beside the Green Bay-Dallas game, Saturday's schedule has Philadelphia at Minnesota, Cleveland at New Orleans and Chicago against Washington at Raleigh, N.C., in NFL games; Oakland at Kansas City in an AFL encounter, and Los Angeles of the NFL at San Diego of AFL.

St. Louis and New York of the NFL play at New Haven, Conn., and Pittsburgh of the NFL meets Cincinnati of the AFL at Morgantown, W. Va., Sunday.

Javelin Seeks 1st Race Victory

DENVER (AP) — American Motors Corp., which turned from Ramblers to racetracks in quest of a new image—and profits—sends its Javelin racing team onto nearby Continental Divide Raceways Sunday, looking for the new car's first victory in Trans-American championship auto racing competition.

And George Vollmer, the Javelin driver who has often finished almost first but never has won, says he believes this might be the right weekend.

Veau Butler Wins Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Beau Butler, with Jim Mace of Circleville in the sulky, edged out the favored Batman Thursday night at Scioto Downs to win the $8,500 Scarlet and Gray race in 2:00.

The 3-year-old son of Adios Butler posted his 11th victory of the year, crossing the line a length and a half ahead of Batman to return $25, $8 and $4.40. Batman paid $3 and $2.60. Sun Shadow surged from 10th at the half mile pole to finish third and pay $3.40.

The 1-3 daily double combination of First Glance and Golda Labelle paid $126.40.

High Temperatures Make Ohio Fishing Outlook 'Fair'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The recent high temperatures have slowed down the daylight fishing activities in Ohio with most of the successful anglers trying their luck during darkness or the early daylight hours.

The fishing forecast:

Hoover Reservoir—Clear and below normal — outlook fair—channel catfish hitting at night off the north shore area.

Buckeye Lake—Roily but at normal levels — catching some bass — carp and catfish — outlook fair.

Knox Lake—Clear and normal — bluegill, catfish, crappies and bass—hitting fair.

Harrison Lake — Clear and normal. Some crappies, channel catfish, bluegill and bass catches being made.

Ferguson Reservoir, Lima — Perch biting—some walleye in late evenings also striking.

Clearfork Reservoir — Continues to offer good sized muskie.

Northeastern Ohio fishing is slow but Mosquito Reservoir shows good catches of bluegill, bass and channel catfish—some walleye and crappie also being taken.

Berlin Reservoir—Few fishermen trying this area—no outstanding catches reported.

Burr Oak — Continues to be fair for bass—along the shoreline bluegill and redear sunfish—water is clear and normal.

Cowan Lake—Clear at 80 degrees some largemouth bass, Crappies and bluegills good.

St. Mary's—Clear and normal some bass, crappies and bluegills reported with a good outlook forecast.

Lake Laramie—Is normal and roily at 82 degrees — channel catfish, carp and a few bass reported.

Lake Erie—Yellow perch fishing is now beginning to improve with some excellent catches reported over the entire western basin of Lake Erie. Walleye also hitting west of Port Clinton along the Niagara, Crib, Tomsaint and Locust Point reefs.

Fresh water drum hitting in Sandusky Bay. Only a fair outlook is forecast.

Richmond, Va. Wins
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Richmond, Va., scored an 8-5 victory over Sherbrooke-Lennoxville, Que., and Wakayama, Japan, beat Santa Ana, Calif., 3-0 in semifinals of the Little League World Series Thursday.

5 Players Cut From Bengals

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Coach Paul Brown trimmed his Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League to 54 players Thursday, making five cuts. Released were ends Elmo Maples and Roger Reynolds, tackles Jim Boudreaux and Claude Lee and guard Ed Mitchell.

Dewey Warren got the nod for the starting quarterback spot when the Bengals face the Pittsburgh Steelers at Morgantown, W. Va., Sunday in an exhibition game.

Brown also said veteran quarterback John Stofa, who injured a knee against Denver two weeks ago, will see limited action.

Bentley Eliminated

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Cincinnati Bentley was eliminated from the American Legion Baseball regional tournament Thursday night by Owensboro, Ky., 6-2. It was the second loss for the Cincinnati team in the double-elimination region 5 play. Owensboro has suffered one defeat.

Dud Wysong Leads Field At Phillie

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After listening to Dudley Wysong list his troubles since he turned professional five years ago, the question appeared to be not would he hold his first-round lead in the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic but would he finish.

Wysong's history is loaded with major ailments that have kept him from realizing his full potential on the tour. He's suffered a whiplash injury, at one time was in traction with a bad back and also damaged the ulnar nerve in his right hand.

If it wasn't for his seven-under-par 65 Thursday in the opening round of the 72-hole Philadelphia tournament, you might be tempted to take up a collection to help pay Wysong's medical insurance.

Talking about his hand injury, he said, "I couldn't even lift a glass of water."

The one thing he could lift in Thursday's round was a putter. Wysong splattered his wood and iron shots all over the tight, 6,708-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course. But once he reached the greens, it was all over except for picking the ball out of the cup.

Wysong had a round of seven birdies, rolling in putts of four, two, 12, four, 11, eight and 25 feet. Several long putts saved pars for the 29-year-old native of McKinney, Tex. All he could say in explaining how an average putter turned tigerish on the green was, "I had the feel, and when you feel you're going to make a putt, nine times out of 10 you do."

Wysong led 44-year-old Al Balding of California and 20-year-old Bobby Cole of South Africa by two strokes as the field of 156 started the day's second round today.

5 Players Cut From Bengals

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Coach Paul Brown trimmed his Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League to 54 players Thursday, making five cuts. Released were ends Elmo Maples and Roger Reynolds, tackles Jim Boudreaux and Claude Lee and guard Ed Mitchell.

Dewey Warren got the nod for the starting quarterback spot when the Bengals face the Pittsburgh Steelers at Morgantown, W. Va., Sunday in an exhibition game.

Brown also said veteran quarterback John Stofa, who injured a knee against Denver two weeks ago, will see limited action.

Bentley Eliminated

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Cincinnati Bentley was eliminated from the American Legion Baseball regional tournament Thursday night by Owensboro, Ky., 6-2. It was the second loss for the Cincinnati team in the double-elimination region 5 play. Owensboro has suffered one defeat.

Detroit Tigers Trounce Chicago White Sox, 4-2

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers are really in there fighting to win their first American League pennant in 23 years, and they're using both short and long distance blows to good advantage.

Al Klaine and Willie Horton provided the power with consecutive home runs and Dick McAuliffe helped with effective infighting Thursday night when the Tigers defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-2. The triumph increased Detroit's first-place lead over idle Baltimore to 7½ games.

In other games, Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees whacked his 534th career homer, tying him for third place with Jimmy Fox on the all-time list, as the Yanks dropped a 3-1 decision to Minnesota. Cleveland downed Boston 3-1 and Oakland edged California 2-1 in Dick Green's ninth-inning homer. Baltimore and Washington were not scheduled.

McAuliffe, who is 5-foot-11, slammed into the 6-foot-3 pitcher with his body as players from both dugouts ran onto the field. McAuliffe and John grappled briefly on the ground, but the fight was quickly broken up and there were no additional incidents.

"His knee jammed into my shoulder. I had pain shooting from my shoulder to my neck," John said.

"He threw three pitches close to my head. The White Sox have been throwing at us for two years. I don't want to be a guinea pig. A guy can be hurt for life," said McAuliffe, who was not injured in the brief brawl.

John, who has a 10-5 record, will be lost to the ninth-place White Sox for from 10 days to three weeks with torn ligaments in his left shoulder, the Tigers' team physician, Dr. Russell Wright, estimated.

Detroit had scored in the first on singles by McAuliffe, Kaline and Horton. The White Sox took the lead in the fourth on a two-run homer by Tommy Davis.

The Tigers scored the game's final run in the seventh on a single by pitcher Mickey Lolich, 12-7, a passed ball and a single by Mickey Stanley.

Mantle struck his milestone homer as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning. It was one of only three hits yielded by Jim Merritt. The Twins got all the runs they needed off Fritz Peterson in the first on Cesar Tovar's double, a run-scoring single by Rich Reese, a sacrifice and Bob Allison's single.

"The one I really want," said Mantle, "is homer No. 535." He added that he didn't think he could ever reach 580 homers, the current total of San Francisco's Willie Mays, who is second on the career list. The late Babe Ruth Williams and Vicente Romo combined for a three-hitter for the Indians. A throwing error by third baseman Joe Foy enabled two Cleveland runs to score in the third inning and another came home on Jose Cardenal's single. Jerry Adair accounted for the only Boston run with an eighth-inning homer.

Green's homer, his third of the season, broke up a pitching duel between Oakland's Jim Hunter, 10-11, and the Angels' Dennis Bennett, 0-1.

California grabbed a 1-0 lead in the sixth when Vic Davillio singled in Jim Fregosi, who had singled with two out and moved to second on shortstop Bert Campaneris' throwing error.

But Oakland came back in the next inning when Green doubled, advanced to third on a sacrifice by Hunter and scored on a squeeze bunt by Campaneris.

Hunter finished with a seven-hitter; Bennett yielded only six hits.

tagged his successor, ex-Tiger Dennis Ribant, for their solo homers as Detroit overcame a 2-1 deficit.

The skirmish developed when McAuliffe fell to the ground after ducking a 3-2 pitch. The Tigers' second baseman charged toward John halfway between the plate and first base after an exchange of words.

"Anyone who thinks I'm going to throw at them on a 3-2 pitch leading 1-0 in this ball park must be stupid," said John later, emphasizing Tiger Stadium's reputation as haven for home run hitters.

Packers Eye Saturday Tilt After Losing 2 in a Row

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The world champion Green Bay Packers were looking for the reasons they've lost two consecutive exhibition games after opening the season with a decision over the College All-Stars.

"I don't know what the real answer is, but we have several ideas," rookie coach Phil Bengtson said Tuesday after viewing films of Monday's 10-7 loss to the Chicago Bears.

"We weren't alert," he said.

"So far, we've been lacking that spark."

"Our running game hasn't got going yet."

And while he was going over his problems, the man who replaced Vince Lombardi as coach looked ahead to Saturday, when the Packers travel to Dallas to play the Cowboys.

"Oh, boy!" he said. "I guess they've been waiting for us ever since we beat them in the title game."

In Florida, the Miami Dolphins, several of them on the mend from a mild attack of flu, went back to work today in preparation for Friday's exhibition game with Boston.

Coach George Wilson cut the Dolphins' practice to 50 minutes Tuesday when several players, including flanker Howard Twilley and center Tom Goode, said they weren't feeling well.

Barring further illness, Wilson said 47 players would make the trip to Jacksonville for the game with Boston.

And it might take an epidemic to ruin their chances. Boston, as usual, has yet to win in two exhibition outings and has a total of only six points to show for games against New Orleans and the New York Jets.

In fact, Boston has pro football's over-all worst record in preseason play, with coach Mike Holovak using those games for experiments with personnel.

Wilson said he expected to use quarterback Kim Hammond for three quarters, with Bob Griese working the final period.

Boston, meanwhile, placed veteran receiver Jim Colclough on injured waivers. Colclough, a 10-year veteran, has been hampered by a bad back.

Patriot rookie John Outlaw, a promising speedster who was seeking a berth as either a running back or defensive back, also was placed on injured waivers. He will undergo knee

Golfers Ready For Xenia Clash

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A field of 180 of the state's top golfers will be on hand Monday for the opening of the three-day $8,000 Ohio Open Golf Tournament here.

But Frank Boynton Jr., who won the title in 1966 and 1967, will not be trying for three in a row. There are 150 pros and 30 amateurs entered.

Familiarity with the 7,175-yard par 72 Greene Country Club course will help two of this area's pros, Mike Podolski, Troy Country Club, and Bob Wynn, Xenia Golf Club.

Former WCH Grid Coach Dies

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—The former head football coach and athletic director at Washington Court House High School, Clyde B. Cramer, died Thursday. He was 63.

Cramer, a 1930 graduate of Ohio University, had taught in the school system here 27 years. Services are to be held Saturday in Bloomingburg, where he once served as mayor.

Ex-U.S. Author Jailed in China

HONG KONG (AP)—Anna Louise Strong, the 83-year-old American author who has been living in Communist China for the past 10 years, has been jailed, an anti-Communist Hong Kong newspaper said today.

The Chinese-language Hong Kong Times said Miss Strong, a long-time friend and supporter of Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-Tung, had been charged with being "an agent of American imperialism" after several months of denunciation by pro-Maoist Red Guards in Peking.

Bentley Loses

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's entry, Cincinnati Bentley, was a 7-2 loser to Springfield, Mo., Glendale Wednesday in the first round of the American Legion Baseball Region 5 tournament.

Roderick Traded

MIAMI (AP)—The Miami Dolphins Wednesday traded flanker John Roderick to the Oakland Raiders for an undisclosed draft choice.

Braves Get Garrido

surgery today and will be lost to the team for about eight weeks.

Their game is one of four scheduled Friday. The others include another National-American Football League matchup, with San Francisco visiting Denver, Baltimore is at Detroit and Buffalo plays Houston at Tulsa, Okla., in the other.

Ezra's Program of Reform

THE POWER OF THE WORD OF GOD TO CHANGE MEN'S LIVES

Scripture—Ezra 7-10.

By R. H. RAMSEY

THE TWO Books of Ezra and Nehemiah continue the history of the Jewish people down to about 400 B.C. Ezra appears in both books, but there is no reference to him in the Book of Ezra until the seventh chapter which begins today's lesson.

Aside from the program of reform which Ezra instituted for the Jews, he is an important Biblical character because he edited most of the books of the Old Testament and put them in their present form. A great deal of knowledge and scholarly ability was necessary to do this, but Ezra apparently was capable enough, for we are told he was a "ready scribe in the law of Moses." He was a descendant of Aaron, brother of Moses, intelligently taught in the word of God, capable of leadership and skillful in using the appropriate means to accomplish his work.

Apparently Ezra was on good terms with Artaxerxes, king of Persia, for he received a commission from him to go to Judah with another detachment of Jews and put the nation in order politically and religiously. This was not a forced recon-surrounding them. Like Daniel, Ezra identified himself with his people in their guilt and acknowledges that they have forsaken His commandments in this matter, despite God's goodness in bringing them out of captivity and back to their homeland.

The land, for them, was unclean, not because it had been devastated, but morally unclean. Its inhabitants were descendants of the Babylonian colonists, the wretched remnant of the Hebrews who had not been taken into captivity, the idolatrous Canaanites.

Idolatry, both then and now, has practically no regard for moral values. Modern love of money, pleasure, indulgence and power constitute idolatry as serious as the idolatry of antiquity which involved graven images and pagan incantations. Incapable of compromise regarding matters of morality, Ezra insisted that moral values be given first place in men's lives.

Ezra realized that the only hope for the returned remnant of the Jewish people lay in exclusiveness of faith. Past and

"For I was ashamed to require of the king a band of soldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy in the way: because we had spoken unto the king, saying, The hand of our God is upon all them for good that seek Him; but His power and His wrath is against all them that forsake Him."—Ezra 8:22.

zation, for only those who wished to return to Jerusalem went. To finance the 900-mile journey Ezra was allowed to collect monies from the Jews living in Babylon and from the Babylonians themselves. Artaxerxes gave Ezra money from the royal treasury and ordered that the treasures of Babylon's satellite nations contribute to the return of the Jews if appealed to.

In addition, the priests, the Levites, singers, porters, the Nethinim and the ministers of the house of God were given a tax-exempt status; Ezra was commissioned to make inquiries for the king regarding conditions in Palestine, to enforce the Law of God in Palestine by teaching the ignorant and punishing the disobedient.

Again, as in Chapter 2, we have a roster of the 1,496 persons who accompanied Ezra to Jerusalem, and the 900-mile journey was apparently uneventful.

Ezra's great prayer of confession (Chapter 9), was prompted by his discovery that the Jews had intermarried with the pagan idolatrous nations present experience had shown that true faith in Jehovah was destroyed by intermarriage with the pagan peoples about them. If allowed to continue, he argued, the divine plan to bring the revelation of God and His holy purposes to the world through the Jewish people would also be destroyed.

To prevent this, Ezra demanded that the people confess their transgression of the word of God, divorce their pagan wives and send them and their children back to the wives' homelands. This the people did, reluctantly, but with resolution.

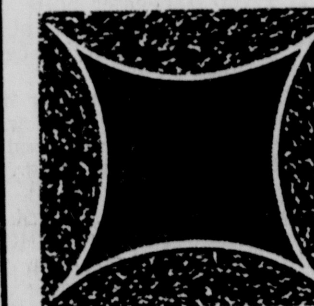

Though this measure seems harsh and unnatural, it was necessary. There comes a time in everyone's life when he must make a choice between one hard necessity and another, and the choice must be made on the side of what is morally and ethically right. Equal with all the evils in the world is that of remaining silent in the face of situations and social customs that degrade human life. It is better to recognize the evils we encounter and speak out against them, than to allow it to fowl our own lives and the life of our generation.

Phillies Defeat Cards, 7-3; Rich Allen Hints at Trade

By MIKE BRYSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Controversial Rich Allen says he would like to be traded—but he sure isn't behaving like a man who is unhappy with his present job.

For the fifth time this season, the feisty outfielder slammed two homers in one game, powering Philadelphia past St. Louis' National League leaders 7-3 Thursday night.

Rich made his statement about a possible trip to the trading block after drawing fire from Phils' owner Bob Carpenter following an alleged bar-room brawl.

Allen, who has been charged with assault and battery, said he thought the "best thing for me to do is to get out of town." Carpenter said that until Allen "grows up" he is likely to become involved in more incidents, adding that he would prefer to have Allen doing his growing up in a Phils' uniform, but "anybody's dealable."

In the only other National League games, Cincinnati came from behind to edge Pittsburgh 7-5 and Dick Dietz singled in a pair of runs with two out in the ninth to give San Francisco a 3-1 victory over Los Angeles.

Allen, whose feud with Gene Mauch earlier this season was blamed for Mauch's ouster as Philadelphia manager, smacked his first homer in the third, a solo blast, in helping his team to a 4-2 lead. He followed with his 27th of the season in the eighth after Roberto Pena singled.

St. Louis grabbed an early 2-1 lead off winner Chris Short, 13-11, but the Phils retaliated with two runs in the second.

He went the distance, scattering 10 hits. "The thing that really helped me was my control," said Short. "I made only three or four pitches where I didn't want them."

Dietz' winning hit stopped a dandy pitching battle between the Giants' Gaylord Perry, 12-11, and Los Angeles' Don Sutton, 5-13.

Sutton retired the first 13 batters he faced before issuing a fifth-inning walk to Jim Hart, who scored on singles by Dietz and Jesus Alou.

Sutton finished with a four-hit, while Perry, touched for a run in the fifth on Tom Haller's single, scattered nine hits.

The Giants loaded the bases on two walks and a fielder's choice before Dietz' heroics.

Tony Perez tripled in two runs and then scored himself on Johnny Bench's sacrifice fly to spark Cincinnati's come-from-behind rally in the seventh.

The Pirates had taken a 2-0 lead in the first and increased it to 4-0 in the second on a two-run double by Matty Alou.

Pete Rose's two-run double highlighted a four-run Reds' outburst in the bottom of the second, but Pittsburgh regained the lead in the sixth on Fred Patek's RBI single.

Carol Mann Seeks Jackpot In Women's World Golf Tilt

By HAL PARIS

Associated Press Sports Writer

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Carol Mann, enjoying her greatest year on the professional circuit, shoots for the $10,000 jackpot and added prestige this weekend in the third annual Ladies World Series of Golf.

The towering 27-year-old Towson, Md., blonde is a slight favorite to take the series over previous winners Mickey Wright and Kathy Whitworth.

Miss Mann, a 6-foot-3 mod swinger with a bubbling personality, came close to capturing the two-day, 36-hole event last year but lost on the first hole of a sudden death playoff to Miss Whitworth.

Both finished behind Miss Wright when the veteran women's pro won the first World Series in 1966.

This terrific trio may get some spirited competition from Sandra Haynie, who has played in the two previous series, and first time entries Susie Maxwell Berning and Sandra Post.

Mrs. Berning earned a spot in the six-woman field by winning the U.S. Open. Miss Post a cute Canadian, got her invitation by copying the LPGA.

Miss Whitworth qualified as defending champion; Miss Mann as the women's leading money winner and Miss Haynie a and Miss Wright on the basis of their third and fourth place standings on the money list.

The six pros, shooting for the $35,000 in prize money, today tested the city operated Snyder Park Course where last year's event was held before starting 18-hole rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mann, who likes to play in mini-skirts, leads the LPGA tour in the number of victories (7) and in total money ($33,810). The eight-year pro appears to have recovered from a back injury that plagued her game a year ago.

Miss Whitworth, a 29-year-old Texan, has five tour triumphs and $31,935 in winnings. A tough, steady competitor, she was voted the AP woman athlete of the year the last two years.

San Diego Chargers Eye Defense, 2 Running Backs

By RON ROACH

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A new defense outlook and a pair of sophomore running backs hold keys to 1968 success for the San Diego Chargers in the American Football League.

Halfback Dick Post and fullback Brad Hubbard are the young runners whom Coach Sid Gillman hopes will pick up where they finished their 1967 rookie years—ranking fourth and fifth among AFL rushers.

Gillman also lists these reasons why the Chargers should improve on their 1967 third-place standing in the Western Division:

"We have greater purpose, a finer attitude and a few more people to help. We've changed design and changed coaching. The people we have now just want to do it."

A Charger championship? "We don't look that far ahead," says Sid.

Gillman brought in Chuck Weber from the Boston Patriots to help revamp the defensive secondary that was the league's worst a year ago.

The Chargers also have realigned the defensive line in an attempt to stage a better pass rush. Veterans Steve de Long and Houston Ridge are at the ends, while 6-foot-7 Ron Billings-sley and veteran Scott Appleton are the tackles.

The No. 1 rookie—6-foot-6, 305-pound Russ Washington—is

'Heinie' Groh Dies In Cincy Hospital

CINCINNATI (AP)—Henry "Heinie" Groh, major league baseball infielder widely known for his use of the "bottle bat," died Thursday night in Drake Hospital. He was 78.

He had been hospitalized since Aug. 2.

Playing 17 years with the New York Giants, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Reds, Groh was identified with the bat he used—shaped at the handle end like the long neck of a bottle.

He hit a lifetime .292 in the majors and his biggest batting season was with Cincinnati in 1921 when he had a .331. He managed the Reds the last part of 1918.

Packers Eye Saturday Tilt After Losing 2 in a Row

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The world champion Green Bay Packers were looking for the reasons they've lost two consecutive exhibition games after opening the season with a decision over the College All-Stars.

"I don't know what the real answer is, but we have several ideas," rookie coach Phil Bengtson said Tuesday after viewing films of Monday's 10-7 loss to the Chicago Bears.

"We weren't alert," he said. "So far, we've been lacking that spark."

"Our running game hasn't got going yet."

And while he was going over his problems, the man who replaced Vince Lombardi as coach looked ahead to Saturday, when the Packers travel to Dallas to play the Cowboys.

"Oh, boy!" he said. "I guess they've been waiting for us ever since we beat them in the title game."

In Florida, the Miami Dolphins, several of them on the mend from a mild attack of flu, went back to work today in preparation for Friday's exhibition game with Boston.

Coach George Wilson cut the Dolphins' practice to 50 minutes Tuesday when several players, including flanker Howard Twilley and center Tom Goode, said they weren't feeling well.

Barring further illness, Wilson said 47 players would make the trip to Jacksonville for the game with Boston.

And it might take an epidemic to ruin their chances. Boston, as usual, has yet to win in two exhibition outings and has a total of only six points to show for games against New Orleans and the New York Jets.

In fact, Boston has pro football's over-all worst record in preseason play, with coach Mike Holovak using those games for experiments with personnel.

Wilson said he expected to use quarterback Kim Hammond for three quarters, with Bob Griese working the final period.

Boston, meanwhile, placed veteran receiver Jim Colclough on injured waivers. Colclough, a 10-year veteran, has been hampered by a bad back.

Patriot rookie John Outlaw, a promising speedster who was seeking a berth as either a running back or defensive back, also was placed on injured waivers. He will undergo knee

HONG KONG (AP)—Anna Louise Strong, the 83-year-old American author who has been living in Communist China for the past 10 years, has been jailed, an anti-Communist Hong Kong newspaper said today.

The Chinese-language Hong Kong Times said Miss Strong, a long-time friend and supporter of Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-Tung, had been charged with being "an agent of American imperialism" after several months of denunciation by pro-Maoist Red Guards in Peking.

Bentley Loses

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's entry, Cincinnati Bentley, was a 7-2 loser to Springfield, Mo., Glendale Wednesday in the first round of the American Legion Baseball Region 5 tournament.

Their game is one of four scheduled Friday. The others include another National-American Football League matchup, with San Francisco visiting Denver, Baltimore is at Detroit and Buffalo plays Houston at Tulsa, Okla., in the other.

Ezra's Program of Reform

THE POWER OF THE WORD OF GOD TO CHANGE MEN'S LIVES

Scripture—Ezra 7-10.

By R. H. RAMSEY

THE TWO Books of Ezra and Nehemiah continue the history of the Jewish people down to about 400 B.C. Ezra appears in both books, but there is no reference to him in the Book of Ezra until the seventh chapter which begins today's lesson.

Aside from the program of reform which Ezra instituted for the Jews, he is an important Biblical character because he edited most of the books of the Old Testament and put them in their present form. A great deal of knowledge and scholarly ability was necessary to do this, but Ezra apparently was capable enough, for we are told he was a "ready scribe in the law of Moses." He was a descendant of Aaron, brother of Moses, intelligently taught in the word of God, capable of leadership and skillful in using the appropriate means to accomplish his work.

Apparently Ezra was on good terms with Artaxerxes, king of Persia, for he received a commission from him to go to Judah with another detachment of Jews and put the nation in order politically and religiously. This was not a forced recon-in other training camp action. Milt Plum, the reserve quarterback acquired by Los Angeles from Detroit, was named to start the Rams' Saturday game in San Diego.

Coach George Allen said Plum will work the first half with regular Roman Gabriel playing the last half.

Sutton retired the first 13 batters he faced before issuing a fifth-inning walk to Jim Hart, who scored on singles by Dietz and Jesus Alou.

Sutton finished with a four-hitter, while Perry, touched for a run in the fifth on Tom Haller's single, scattered nine hits.

Pete Rose's two-run double highlighted a four-run Reds' outburst in the bottom of the second, but Pittsburgh regained the lead in the sixth on Fred Patek's RBI single.

AUCTION

232 ACRES
FAYETTE AND HIGHLAND COUNTY FARM
TWO RESIDENCES — BARN — SHEDS
HALF OF GROWING CROPS
Saturday, September 7, 1968
Located: Fronting on U. S. 62 south of Washington C. H., at the county line, and extending to the Stafford Road. All buildings on Stafford Road.
Farm sells at 2:00 P.M.
(At the buildings)
ASC reports 220 acres of crop land, which has been producing worthwhile returns for the owner and the farm tenant. Land is fairly level with a gentle roll to insure good natural drainage. Tile and fences are average. A little less than a mile of road frontage on U. S. 62. The main house is modern, the tenant house is not modern.
INSPECTION: Call or see Weade and Wisecup Realty for further information. Don't fail to inspect this offering.

Owners' one half share of the 150 A. (approx.) crop of soybeans sells with the land.

FINANCING: This high quality farm land can qualify for a maximum long term farm loan. Agents can help you, if needed.
POSSESSION: Fall seeding privileges. Possession on passing of deed, however, subject to the present tenant's rights, but not later than January 1, 1969 on full possession.
TERMS: $8,000.00 down day of sale and balance in sixty (60) days. This above mentioned farm sells to the highest bidder.

WILLIAMSPORT NEWS

By Ron Beatty — Phone 986-2581

It's about time sometime took the proverbial bull by the proverbial horns. When do we get the soap box for the park? Issues are plentiful especially with the election coming up and many an opinion is going to waste. Hyde Park has great success with theirs. A very hot subject this week is the weather. Local issues would probably dominate. Following are four offerings or suggestions if you wish to use them.

Do four o'clocks recognize daylight saving time or do they bloom at five o'clock? This is a controversial subject. There has been a blooming suspicion all summer that four o'clocks are deliberating snubbing the government imposed daylight saving time.

Should fur trading be a part of Westfall Curriculum FAT members (Future American Trappers) feel that opportunity in this field is sealed to graduates. A recent survey bears this out. They feel there is a training on the subject.

Why has cotton farming declined in Pickaway County? Was it the gin? Many cotton picking hands were caught in the gin. Or is it that cotton bolls get rotten? Should bolls even be made out of cotton?

Does the common fig require nollinization to bear fruit? This is an easy one for beginners. Who is going to say you're wrong? For that matter, who gives a fig?

Now! . . . Statues! None of the blueprints or drawings seen thus far show accommodations for statues. Should they be national heroes or local figures? We have famous people right here at home. How about Mr. Walter Lewis, a recognized world champion? The Burlington Liars Club crowned him for this story and I quote: "I had a dry well which I pulled out of the ground and run through a wringer to water a canary. After I put it back in the ground, it started to rain and I had to prime the well to get the stream started."

Another one of his: "I had a coon dog and he died. I thought so much of him I tanned his hide and made shoestrings out of it. The next Spring I went fishing and came across a coon track. If those strings hadn't treed the coon, I would have been run to death."

Mr. Lewis appeared on a television show. Which one? To Tell The Truth! He also appeared on Chet Long's television show. He spoke at the Ohio Forestry Association in Columbus and even at the Clarksburg Field Day. He tells about a time back during the depression when water was scarce. "I lived on a farm with three windmills but there wasn't enough wind. We had to tear two down and remove a barb wire fence a mile to the west to let enough wind through to blow one."

No License Case Tops Court Log

Merle M. Turner, 67, of 1201 Turner Drive, was charged in Circleville Municipal Court Thursday with driving without a valid operator's license.

Turner was fined $25 and costs on the offense but Judge Sterling Lamb suspended the fine on the condition that Turner obtain corrective lenses and apply for an operator's license.

A Pataskala man, Glenn Morehart, 34, was charged with OMVI when he refused to take the alcohol indicator test. He was fined $175 and costs, was jailed for 90 days and had his license taken away for three years.

However, Judge Lamb suspended all but three days of the jail term and placed him on probation for three years. Morehart was also charged with resisting an officer and was fined $25 and costs.

Donald Queen, 24, Lucasville, was charged with driving without a valid license and OMVI. He was fined $50, and costs on the first offense and $150 and costs on the second. He was jailed for three days and had his license taken away for six months.

Ten other out-of-county offenders forfeited bonds and fines totaling $225.

Final Drive-In Service Slated

Dr. Edwin H. Dickey, recently appointed general manager of the College Hill Methodist Home in Cincinnati, will be the guest minister Sunday morning at the last drive-in church service for the summer in the Starlight Theater. Coffee and conversation at the snack counter will follow the worship service which begins at 8:30.

Dr. Dickey has served the church frequently in important official positions. He spent six years as district superintendent of the Wilmington District and more recently six years on the Cincinnati District. He was a delegate from the Ohio Annual Conference to the United Conference in Dallas, Texas, in April this year. Rev. and Mrs. Dickey have two sons in the Christian ministry.

After I put it back in the ground, it started to rain and I had to prime the well to get the stream started."

Another one of his: "I had a coon dog and he died. I thought so much of him I tanned his hide and made shoestrings out of it. The next Spring I went fishing and came across a coon track. If those strings hadn't treed the coon, I would have been run to death."

Mr. Lewis appeared on a television show. Which one? To Tell The Truth! He also appeared on Chet Long's television show. He spoke at the Ohio Forestry Association in Columbus and even at the Clarksburg Field Day. He tells about a time back during the depression when water was scarce. "I lived on a farm with three windmills but there wasn't enough wind. We had to tear two down and remove a barb wire fence a mile to the west to let enough wind through to blow one."

No License Case Tops Court Log

Merle M. Turner, 67, of 1201 Turner Drive, was charged in Circleville Municipal Court Thursday with driving without a valid operator's license.

Turner was fined $25 and costs on the offense but Judge Sterling Lamb suspended the fine on the condition that Turner obtain corrective lenses and apply for an operator's license.

A Pataskala man, Glenn Morehart, 34, was charged with OMVI when he refused to take the alcohol indicator test. He was fined $175 and costs, was jailed for 90 days and had his license taken away for three years.

However, Judge Lamb suspended all but three days of the jail term and placed him on probation for three years. Morehart was also charged with resisting an officer and was fined $25 and costs.

Donald Queen, 24, Lucasville, was charged with driving without a valid license and OMVI. He was fined $50, and costs on the first offense and $150 and costs on the second. He was jailed for three days and had his license taken away for six months.

Ten other out-of-county offenders forfeited bonds and fines totaling $225.

Final Drive-In Service Stated

Dr. Edwin H. Dickey, recently appointed general manager of the College Hill Methodist Home in Cincinnati, will be the guest minister Sunday morning at the last drive-in church service for the summer in the Starlight Theater. Coffee and conversation at the snack counter will follow the worship service which begins at 8:30.

Dr. Dickey has served the church frequently in important official positions. He spent six years as district superintendent of the Wilmington District and more recently six years on the Cincinnati District. He was a delegate from the Ohio Annual Conference to the United Methodist Conference in Dallas, Texas, in April this year. Rev. and Mrs. Dickey have two sons in the Christian ministry.

Meter Installed, Auto Ticketed

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Ralph M. Johnson, a brakeman for the Great Northern Railway, left on a railway run to Minneapolis-St. Paul Wednesday night. When he returned Thursday afternoon, he found that a parking meter had been installed where his car was parked and an overtime parking ticket put on the car.

The violation later was voided.
